

For the Proprietor of
HONGKONG TELEGRAPH,
For and on behalf of
SOUTH CHINA MORNING POST, LTD.

Advertiser and Publisher

The Hongkong Telegraph

VOL. V NO. 203

MONDAY, AUGUST 28, 1950.

Price 20 Cents

HONGKONG UNIT ADVANCE PARTY GET WARM KOREA WELCOME

From LIONEL CRANE, "Daily Express"

Pusan, Aug. 27.

British troops have landed in Korea. The advance party were flown from Hongkong and arrived in Pusan this morning. There were about forty men and their officers. The remainder of their regiments, the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders and the Middlesex Regiment, are still on the way.

The first man on Korean soil got a typically Korean welcome. As he jumped from the plane a breeze from another plane's propellers whipped a yellow cloud of dust over him.

As the men walked across the airfield they looked spruce and well-turned out. The first G.I. to see them pointed to the Scottmen's tam-o'-shanters and said: "Say fellow get a load of the fancy bonnet."

There was a rush to greet the Britishers. American soldiers and airmen crowded around slapping them on the back saying "Glad to have you here pal."

'Tarzan' Arrested For Jewel Theft

Nice, Aug. 27. The chief of the Nice police's "Flying Squad" said today that he had arrested the man responsible for the recent 20,000,000 francs' jewel robbery at the Goffe Juan home of the American nylon stocking magnate, Mr. N. Winston, on August 6.

The arrested man was Dante Spada, 23-year-old Italian aeronaut, and known to his associates as "Tarzan".

The Chief Commissioner of the Nice Flying Squad, M. Louis William, arrested Spada.

The police said he had climbed into a first floor bedroom at the villa, and was caught with a large proportion of the stolen jewels in his possession.

Jewel robberies in France this month have totalled 70,000,000 francs. Twenty-six major plots have been hit. "Monsieur le baillif" in the last year netted Conal," composed by Marc Sosral.—United Press.

EDITORIAL

Cold War In Balkans

INTENSIFICATION of the provocative Moscow campaign in the Balkans, designed either to goad Yugoslavia into action or create the conditions for internal collapse, leaves Marshal Tito unflustered. In further assertion of his independence from the masters of the Kremlin, Tito has just delivered himself of a number of statements which are of special interest at this time of international crisis. In response to the perpetual radio tirades alleging aggressive activity against the Moscow satellites surrounding his country, Tito declared in an official statement issued in Belgrade that Yugoslavia would go to war only if attacked, that he abhors aggression as being incorrect from the moral point of view, irrespective of who the aggressor is, and that aggression is not his method of extending the Communist revolution. He repeats the accusation previously hurled at Stalin that Soviet policy aims at dominating the world. Applying these statements to the immediate issue at hand, he expresses doubt that a North Korean victory, desired by the Soviets, would lead to independence for the Korean people. These statements will undoubtedly be assailed by Moscow and its Cominform as further evidence of Marshal Tito's "treachery" and his relapse into "bourgeois" morality. It is indeed somewhat anomalous to hear a professed disciple of Marxism and Leninism, if no longer Stalinism, talk of a morality which Marx and Lenin spurned, and condemn aggression which he himself supported, when the breach with Moscow was not quite so wide, in Greece. For that reason his declarations must be taken with a considerable amount of salt. They suit his purpose for the moment. How much sincerity lies behind them? Nevertheless such statements may be regarded as not without value because they are the product of Marshal Tito's own experience with his former Moscow masters, and because they mark a further step in the evolution of his own special brand of national communism. If they mean anything at all they must mean that Soviet Russia cannot count on Yugoslav support in an aggressive war, and that Yugoslavia will fight if such aggression is directed against her. This does not mean that Yugoslavia would necessarily fight the West; on the contrary, Marshal Tito clearly indicates that he prefers to stand alone. But even a "neutral" Yugoslavia is better than a hostile one and deserves enough support to maintain it in that position. The West has never declared war against Communism as such, whether of the Stalinist or of the Titoist variety, but only against Communist conspiracy and aggression, and as long as communism eschews these crimes it can be left to the people afflicted by it to deal with it. Meanwhile, Marshal Tito's new professions of morality and abhorrence of aggression would carry more conviction if they were reflected by the Yugoslav delegate to the Security Council, who, though refraining from supporting the Soviet delegate in his manoeuvres, has also abstained from supporting the United Nations in suppressing aggression and upholding the moral law.

Korea War Victim

Hungry and crying, this Korean baby was found by American troops in this state. Korea custom dictates that anyone touching the baby is responsible for its care. The soldiers took care of this baby girl until a family agreed to be responsible. (London Express Service).

Canadian Strike Emergency

Ottawa, Aug. 27. An emergency session of Parliament, called for Tuesday, will seek ways and means of settling Canada's railway strike by 124,000 workers, now in its sixth day.

Negotiations between the railways and the trade unions, resumed on Friday night at the urging of the Prime Minister, Mr. Louis St. Laurent, broke down last night.—Reuter.

Bus Mishap Blocks Trams

A Cable and Wireless messenger, Sue Ah-mong, of Shanghai, was injured this morning when a motor-bus collided with the bicycle he was riding not very far from the offices of Cable and Wireless in Union Building.

The messenger left the building to go westwards sometime after 8 a.m. when the bus, coming out of Pidder Street, turned east to go along Chatter Road and knocked him down. He was removed to hospital unconscious, but is expected to survive.

The accident caused a long congestion of trams in the centre of town for a while.

Farouk Listens To Music

Deauville, Aug. 27. King Farouk of Egypt listened last night to French modern music and apparently liked it. He attended the Grand Prix of French song, during which eleven modern musical pieces were played, in the Casino here. The 500,000-franc prize was given to the hit "Monsieur le baillif" in the cent-

Grim Flood And Quake Disaster Scenes In India

Dibrugarh, Assam, Aug. 27. Mr. F. Kingdon Ward, British explorer and naturalist, and his wife are reported to have been marooned somewhere in the north-eastern frontier region of India as a result of the earthquake.

No confirmation or details of the report could be obtained except that the couple had planned to cross the Indian frontier. Mr. Kingdon Ward is a famous seeker of rare plants and the author of "Assam Adventure."

Much of the modern knowledge of the flora of India, Tibet and China is due to his work. He claimed recently to have given to civilization more than 100 flowers and shrubs unknown before.

A sharp earthquake shock Margherita and parts of Upper Assam yesterday. Moving from north to south, the shock was described as the longest in duration and the greatest intensity of all felt since the great earthquake tremors two weeks ago.

Indian Air Force Dakota planes, carrying food parcels for flood-stricken areas facing famine, returned to Gauhati tonight owing to darkness caused by heavy rain clouds.

"VALLEY OF DEATH" A correspondent who accompanied the Dakota flight reported that the Subansiri basin "appeared like a 'valley of death.' A sheet of water covered the whole area. Five villages north of Lakhimpur have been completely wiped out. It is not known how many villagers escaped.

The Subansiri, flowing down from Teng Lake in Tibet, changed its course near three villages three years ago. The correspondent added that the hills were practically bisected by heavy landslides during the years.

Over 500 villages are under water in the Darrangbari Division, North Bihar, after flooding by the Noida River, according to reports received at Patna. Floods have inundated an area of over 750 square miles, 150,000 huts and houses being immerged in varying degrees.—Reuter.

CORPSES FLOATING Calcutta, Aug. 27. A Jorhat report today said that in Upper Assam more than 100 people were feared to have drowned in the Subansiri River and decomposed corpses were seen floating in the river.

About 7,000 people living in nearby tribal areas had taken shelter at Jorhat. Three ancient temples of the Hindu deities have been badly damaged in the recent tremors. They might collapse in the event of another shock.

Meanwhile, the coal and oil industries, hit heavily as a result of the earthquake shocks, have not resumed normal production. The extent of the damage to the oilfields of the Assam Oil Company could not be estimated accurately until the restoration of normal conditions in their refineries.

More than 2,300 villages in the United Provinces have been swamped by flood waters of eight rivers flowing through the State.

Damage to property, including crops, was estimated at 50,000,000 rupees. No deaths have been reported so far, but about 600,000 people have been affected by the floods.

The rivers in spate include the Ganges, Rishni, Rapti, Saryu, Ganga, Gandak and Kali.

Similar reports of flooding of villages in West Bengal and Bihar State were received today. In the Hooghly district of West Bengal, 137 villages have been devastated by the Brahmaputra and Barakar rivers, which have been in spate since August 11.

More than 300 houses were affected and damage to crops was considerable. It is estimated that 80 percent of the standing jute crops have been totally destroyed.

In Bihar State, four rivers were in spate, inundating hundreds of small villages on their banks.—Reuter.

CHIANG MUST GO, SAYS
'Observer' London, Aug. 27. The Independent "Sunday Observer" today called on the British Commonwealth to act as "brokers" in settling the conflict over Formosa between the United States and Communist China.

"The first step towards peaceful settlement in Formosa is removal of Chiang," it said. "The power that can bring this about without resort to armed force is America.

"It is not too much to ask China to abide by temporary United Nations administration of the island provided this administration is without prejudice to final settlement. In working for a United Nations solution along these lines, Britain and the Commonwealth will act as honest brokers between China and America and nobly serve the cause of peace!"—United Press.

SURPRISE RED ATTACKS IN THREE AREAS

Armour Hurled Into New Thrust Along The East Coast FIERCE U.S. AIR SORTIES

Tokyo, Aug. 28.

The Communists last night hurled armour into their now assault on the South Korean defenders of the East coast port of Pohang, after driving forward three miles and capturing the town of Kigo.

The spotlight tonight was on the Pohang battle. But fierce fighting had also flared up in two other major sectors—the north-west are covering Taegu, and the southern zone—during the past 24 hours.

Air armadas flew in practically non-stop strikes against aggressive northern movements along almost the full length of the 120-mile "defence box" perimeter.

Meanwhile, large formations of American Shooting Star and Mustang planes, operating from bases in Japan, have hit at North Korean transport and airstrips well beyond the 38th Parallel.

Senior American intelligence officers said that the new surprise attacks dispelled any idea that the Northerners were "washed up."

The two Communist divisions staging the East coast drive must have received reinforcements of men and guns. United States spokesman said, despite the fact that the main road south along the coast was under almost continuous bombardment by American warships.

In the north-west corner of the "defence box," the Communists attacked steadily for 36 hours to seize the town of Ulikung, 10 miles north of the important communications centre of Taegu. South Koreans counter-attacking twice during the night, failed to regain lost ground.

The Communist 10th Division, which has two regiments across the Nakdong River, about 14 and a half miles south-west of Ulikung, continued to build up its bridgehead, using an underwater "bridge" of sandbags or telegraph poles.

"The first step towards peaceful settlement in Formosa is removal of Chiang," it said. "The power that can bring this about without resort to armed force is America.

"It is not too much to ask China to abide by temporary United Nations administration of the island provided this administration is without prejudice to final settlement. In working for a United Nations solution along these lines, Britain and the Commonwealth will act as honest brokers between China and America and nobly serve the cause of peace!"—United Press.

STOP PRESS

Peking Makes Protest To U.S. MacArthur War Message Withdrawal

London, Aug. 27.

The Chinese Communist Government today lodged a strong protest with the United States Secretary of State, Mr. Dean Acheson, about alleged violations of the North Korea-Manchuria border by U.S. planes, according to a Peking broadsheet distributed by the official New China News Agency.

The Chinese Communist Premier and Foreign Minister, Chou En-lai, termed the situation "very serious."

His note, addressed to Mr. Acheson personally, said American planes strafed buildings, railway stations, railway carriages and people, killing and wounding a number of them. The attacks were said to have been made "along the right bank of the Yalu River," which divides North Korea from Manchuria.—United Press.

We have no misgiving about this brilliant younger. We have given it a thorough test, and for performance, beauty of tone and ease of tuning can enthusiastically say that it upholds the fine traditions of its distinguished family.

FEATURES
★ Excellent all round performance on all bands with full tone reproduction.
★ Fully balanced speech bandwidth.
★ Smart miniature dial calibrated in metres and megacycles.
★ Beautifully proportioned moulded cabinet, attractively finished crystal shades.
★ Tropically strengthened.
★ OUTSTANDING VALUE FOR MONEY.

MADE IN CAMBRIDGE
ENGLAND
The Home of Scientific Research

MODEL 49X 4 valve, 5 waveband, Band-spread Superhet for A.C. or D.C. mains operation.

GILMAN'S
Gloucester Arcade

Tel. 27017.

(Continued on Page 5 Col. 3)

PROBING ATTACKS

Five North Korean regiments continued probing attacks in the south, but no serious offensive had yet begun. One frontline report said that United Nations

Photographic interpretation confirmed another important

(Continued on Page 5 Col. 3)

BIG WORKS BOMBED

Superfortresses today dropped 240 tons of high explosives on the Japanese Iron Works at Kyomoto, 15 miles west of Pyonyang, the North Korean capital, in one of the most active days of United States Air Force support since the campaign started.

On the central front a Communist force in 10 small boats was "destroyed" by artillery and Infantry fire while attempting a river crossing in the Tugong area, held by the American Second Division.

CHIANG MUST GO, SAYS 'OBSERVER'

The Communist 10th Division, which has two regiments across the Nakdong River, about 14 and a half miles south-west of Pyonyang, the North Korean capital, in one of the most active days of United States Air Force support since the campaign started, a communiqué stated.

The huge Kyomoto works supplied the bulk of the iron and steel for the North Korean forces, headquarters said.

Photographic interpretation confirmed another important

(Continued on Page 5 Col. 3)

PROBING ATTACKS

Five North Korean regiments continued probing attacks in the south, but no serious offensive had yet begun. One frontline report said that United Nations

Photographic interpretation confirmed another important

(Continued on Page 5 Col. 3)

GILMAN'S

Gloucester Arcade

Tel. 27017.

LEE

DAILY AT 2.30, 5.20,
7.30 & 9.30 P.M.

Liberty

DAILY AT 2.30, 5.30,
7.30 & 9.30 P.M.

SHOWING TO-DAY

Added Attraction at LEE
LATEST REPORT FROM EMBATTLED KOREA.
FILMED UNDER FIRE BY DEPT. OF DEFENCE AND PARAMOUNT NEWS CAMERAMAN!
B-29 Superforts take off from Okinawa for raids on key enemy targets — Marine Army Units wipe out Communist mortar and machine gun crews.
etc.

ALSO UNIVERSAL-INTERNATIONAL NEWSREEL

Take Any Eastern Tram Car or Happy Valley Bus
SHOWING TO-DAY: 2.30—5.30—7.30 & 9.30 P.M.
HERE'S ALL THE MUSIC AND ROMANCE YOU WANT!
TOGETHER WITH ALL THE STARS YOU LOVE!

Under the direction of Mr F N. Kent

A comprehensive scheme including ideas, layout and finished design is available to advertisers in the

SOUTH CHINA MORNING POST AND HONGKONG TELEGRAPH
Telephone 26611

☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

WOMANSENSE

☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

At a "Petal-Party"

At a "Petal-Party"

In London girls wore their favorite flower petals. With chrysanthemum petals in her hair and on her gown was Pamela Davis, who plays in Noel Coward's "Ace of Clubs."

STYLED FOR MATERNITY

There is a growing interest in two-piece maternity dresses according to an observer from America.

Expectant mothers are said to prefer the "covered-up" look afforded by two-piece dresses. Buyers find that women follow this pattern in shopping for maternity fashions, inexpensive, one-piece dresses for the early period and a good quality two piece dress for the final period of maternity.

Play Clothes

Maternity dress buyers agree there are good opportunities in the maternity sportswear field. Slacks are a good sportswear item in maternity departments.

Tailored play suits also are important sportswear numbers, but buyers put little emphasis on maternity bathing suits.

In fabrics, maternity dress buyers like chambrays, rayon chevrons and soft rayons. Small prints are much more important than larger prints.

Washability is one of the most important points in maternity dresses and buyers are giving this factor ever-increasing attention.

Pique collars are important in maternity dresses and preference is shown to cotton chevrons and muslins with small flowers.

Trim Cotton

Rose and black dress.
By Grace Thorncroft

THE shirt-waist dress, crisp and functional, is the big favourite of the season. Here it achieves a dress-up look for a good-looking town cotton in rose colour with detachable collar and cuffs in black. The pin-tucked yoke closes with tiny pearl buttons. The bodice is snug, the peplum jutting out for a nice contrast, and to complete the line, the skirt is straight and slim.

"I was told he uses lettuce and suitable greens of all kinds tossed with seasonings, olive oil, vinegar, crumbled Roquefort cheese and a hint of garlic."

"And of what does the Reverend Father's salad consist, Madame?"

"A real Chef's salad,

Madame. But what was contributed by the ladies as a sur-

Madame Paris

Joan Harrison

PARIS.

In a third-floor apartment overlooking the cocktail bar of the Ritz Hotel, ornately furnished with golden clocks, Venetian glass mirrors, terra-cotta animals, and glass, glass everywhere, a woman, no longer young, lies as a legend of the fabulous world of Paris fashion.

She is Madame Chanel—a perfume was named after her—a rich woman who made a fortune between the two world wars but who no longer dresses the internationally chic women. She says: "One loses money now in couture. I don't like losing money."

But she dresses herself as only herself can. Amid the glass animals, the Chinese tables and those hard, high, uncomfortable sofas that the French love, she poses for ROBB and myself in the six dresses she is taking with her to Venice.

They are simple dresses, with the old "Chanel touch," unique because, though hundreds of women would gladly buy them, only their creator will wear them.

ROBB

ROBB chose two which illustrate how a woman with courage and personality, even if well over the 60 mark, can wear a dress in flaming raspberry red, providing the line perfect.

And providing she knows—Chanel knows—every line and movement of her own figure.

"Why," said Chanel, throwing wide her hands, "should a woman be made to suffer in a dress in which she cannot move from the knees down; a neckline which is one long line of exposure, and a waistline which kills the enjoyment of a good meal?"

It is only fair to add that the Chanel effect is also helped by about three or four pounds—by weight!—of jewellery.

"Voilà!" said Chanel, "now

MADAME CHANEL'S dress (right) Gipsy-type evening-gown in black and raspberry. The skirt is separate from the bodice and made in one enormous wrap-around piece. Material is faille, the frills edged with red to match the bodice. The blouse top is tightly fitting, crossed over and tied at the back.

(Below) BLACK TULLE evening gown. Transparent tulle slip worn over a skirt of slightly stiffened tulle. The top is the same cross-over line in black silk faille.

Sketches by ROBB

imitate the false. Years ago I started the "dress jewellery" vogue so that women could wear ropes of pearls and clusters of fake stones. Now mine are real."

The value? "I don't even know," said Chanel. "If I did, now is not the time to talk about it when one thinks of what has been happening in the South of France."

With a black, full dinner gown worn with a small eye veil, Chanel was a triple rope of pearls which reached to her waist, a real ruby and emerald necklace, an emerald pendant the size of a bullet's eye, pearl earrings the size of a half-crown, and rings reaching up to the middle knuckles of her fingers.

—(London Express Service)

imitate the false. Years ago I started the "dress jewellery" vogue so that women could wear ropes of pearls and clusters of fake stones. Now mine are real."

The value? "I don't even know," said Chanel. "If I did, now is not the time to talk about it when one thinks of what has been happening in the South of France."

With a black, full dinner gown worn with a small eye veil, Chanel was a triple rope of pearls which reached to her waist, a real ruby and emerald necklace, an emerald pendant the size of a bullet's eye, pearl earrings the size of a half-crown, and rings reaching up to the middle knuckles of her fingers.

—(London Express Service)

imitate the false. Years ago I started the "dress jewellery" vogue so that women could wear ropes of pearls and clusters of fake stones. Now mine are real."

The value? "I don't even know," said Chanel. "If I did, now is not the time to talk about it when one thinks of what has been happening in the South of France."

With a black, full dinner gown worn with a small eye veil, Chanel was a triple rope of pearls which reached to her waist, a real ruby and emerald necklace, an emerald pendant the size of a bullet's eye, pearl earrings the size of a half-crown, and rings reaching up to the middle knuckles of her fingers.

—(London Express Service)

New Penicillin Discoveries

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

WHEN Dr Fleming of England discovered penicillin, he opened a new and almost unprecedented era in medicine. For the first time, medical science possessed a weapon with which disease germs could be attacked directly. Since then, other such drugs have been developed, each adding something to the scope of our attack until today many hitherto fatal infections are now controlled with ease.

But, though among the greatest of all medical booms, penicillin has not been an unmixed blessing. Although it has saved hundreds of thousands of lives, its use has proved that numbers of people have been reported as being caused by penicillin.

Nearly all the symptoms of penicillin hypersensitivity occur on the skin and they vary in degree from a few isolated lesions to welts covering the entire surface of the body in extremely sensitive individuals. In addition to the rash, there are, at times, swelling of the joints, fever, and swelling of the mucous membranes or lining portions of the nose, throat, and mouth. Severe asthma has been reported as being caused by penicillin.

Pharmaceutical manufacturers are, of course, aware of these drawbacks and are constantly striving to eliminate them. For this reason it is interesting to note that two substances recently described have been found to be just as valuable as the penicillin "G" now in use, but, to date, not shown to have any of the adverse effects of penicillin "G" in producing allergic reactions.

Vary in Degree

The first substance is known as penicillin "S," and differs from penicillin "G" only in a slight difference of chemical make-up, but not in the effect it has on the curing of diseases. This substance, however, had such a strong odour, resembling that of a skunk (that is why the letter "S" was used), that the odour itself proved a deterrent to its use.

Another even more recent substance possesses all the value of penicillin "S," but has a much milder and less offensive odour. This substance is known as penicillin "O," the "O" having been added because it resembles the odour of onion.

Many patients allergic to penicillin "G" have been given penicillin "S" and penicillin "O" without showing any evidence of hypersensitivity to these two drugs.

Beauty reminder: Frequent applications of cream help ward off many complexion ills. After massaging cream with fingers, remove, using sterile cotton ball.

Your Sewing Scrapbook

by Mary Brooks Picken

Chemise Dress for Summer Wear

Fringed seam, sleeve portion, underarm and skirt. Gather lower edge of slash and draw up fullness evenly to fit upper edge, as in G. French seam slash, tapering; seam shown.

For neck opening, cut in from A 1/4 neck plus 3". Face this centre front opening with two pieces cut out of underarm. Make a narrow hem across back neckline and 1" hem on sleeves.

Fold long strip and stitch through centre as in H. Cut this strip in half—one for the slash. Turn in all raw ends and whip. Match centre of one length to neck at centre back. Overlap 3" and stitch across back neckline, allowing band to stand up. Bring ends forward and tie at a becoming point over centre front opening.

Put dress on. Tie slash around waist. Raise arms to allow slight blousing. Adjust fullness evenly. Mark becoming hem length.

Straighten fabric at both ends. Tear a 2" strip from one selvedge edge, full length, for band and belt.

Fold fabric in half lengthwise. For shoulder line, mark centre on fold (A) and straight across on selvage (B). From B, measure 1/2 armhole plus 1" (C). From centre fold, measure straight across to C 1/4 bust plus 2". From A measure on fold shoulder to waist length plus 3" (D). Directly across mark E.

Connect C and E with straight line. Cut in from E 4", to provide fullness over hips. Cut from C to E to make underarm seam. Cut back exactly same as front.

Right Side Right Side

B 1/2 Armhole + 1" C E 4" Slash for Gathers + 2" Bust + 2" Shoulder to Waist + 3" Waist to Hem + 2" Front

TOMORROW: BATHING-SUIT BAG

A "Covered Dish" Dinner

WHILE in Akron, Ohio, during our recent swing through the Middle-West, the Chef and I heard about a most interesting "covered dish" dinner given twice a year by the St. Sebastian Sanctuary Guild to honour new members.

"This covered dish idea would be very good for our readers to use in their homes," remarked the Chef. "Instead of one housewife doing all the cooking for a large party, each woman guest could be invited to bring her specialty in a covered dish. These could all be placed on a buffet table, and unveiled—I mean uncovered—call at once while each lady called out 'surprise!' "

Basic Idea

"Your basic idea is fine, Chef. But at one of the St. Sebastian dinners I understand all the women brought salads! And another time most of them brought beans!"

"Then I will modify my plan. It would probably be better for the hostess to ask each of her guests to bring some special dish, to make up a completely balanced menu."

"And that's what actually happened at this St. Sebastian dinner. Large platters of baked ham, bread and butter, coffee and tea were provided. And Father Hilary Zwicker always tosses two enormous bowls of his famous salad."

"And of what does the Reverend Father's salad consist, Madame?"

"A real Chef's salad, Madame. But what was contributed by the ladies as a sur-

Dinner

Grape Fruit Sections
Chicken (leftover) in King
with Tomato-Rice
Green Peas Buttered Beets
Toasted Green Salad Bowl
Dark Bread
Gooseberry or Red Currant
"Foot"
Hot or Iced Coffee or Tea Milk

All Measurements Are Level
Recipes Serve Four

Gooseberry "Foot"

"Top and tail" 3 c. green gooseberries. Wash and place in a double boiler. Add 3/4 c. sugar. Cook until the berries are very soft and add more sugar if they taste too tart. Just before serving beat 3/4 c. heavy cream stiff, or use prepared whipped cream, or 3/4 c. dried skim milk topping. Fold into the gooseberry pulp. Serve in large sherbet glasses or deep sauce dishes.

Red Currant "Foot." Use red currants instead of gooseberries.

Trick of the Chef

Cook rice in equal parts tomato juice and water. Season with onion salt.

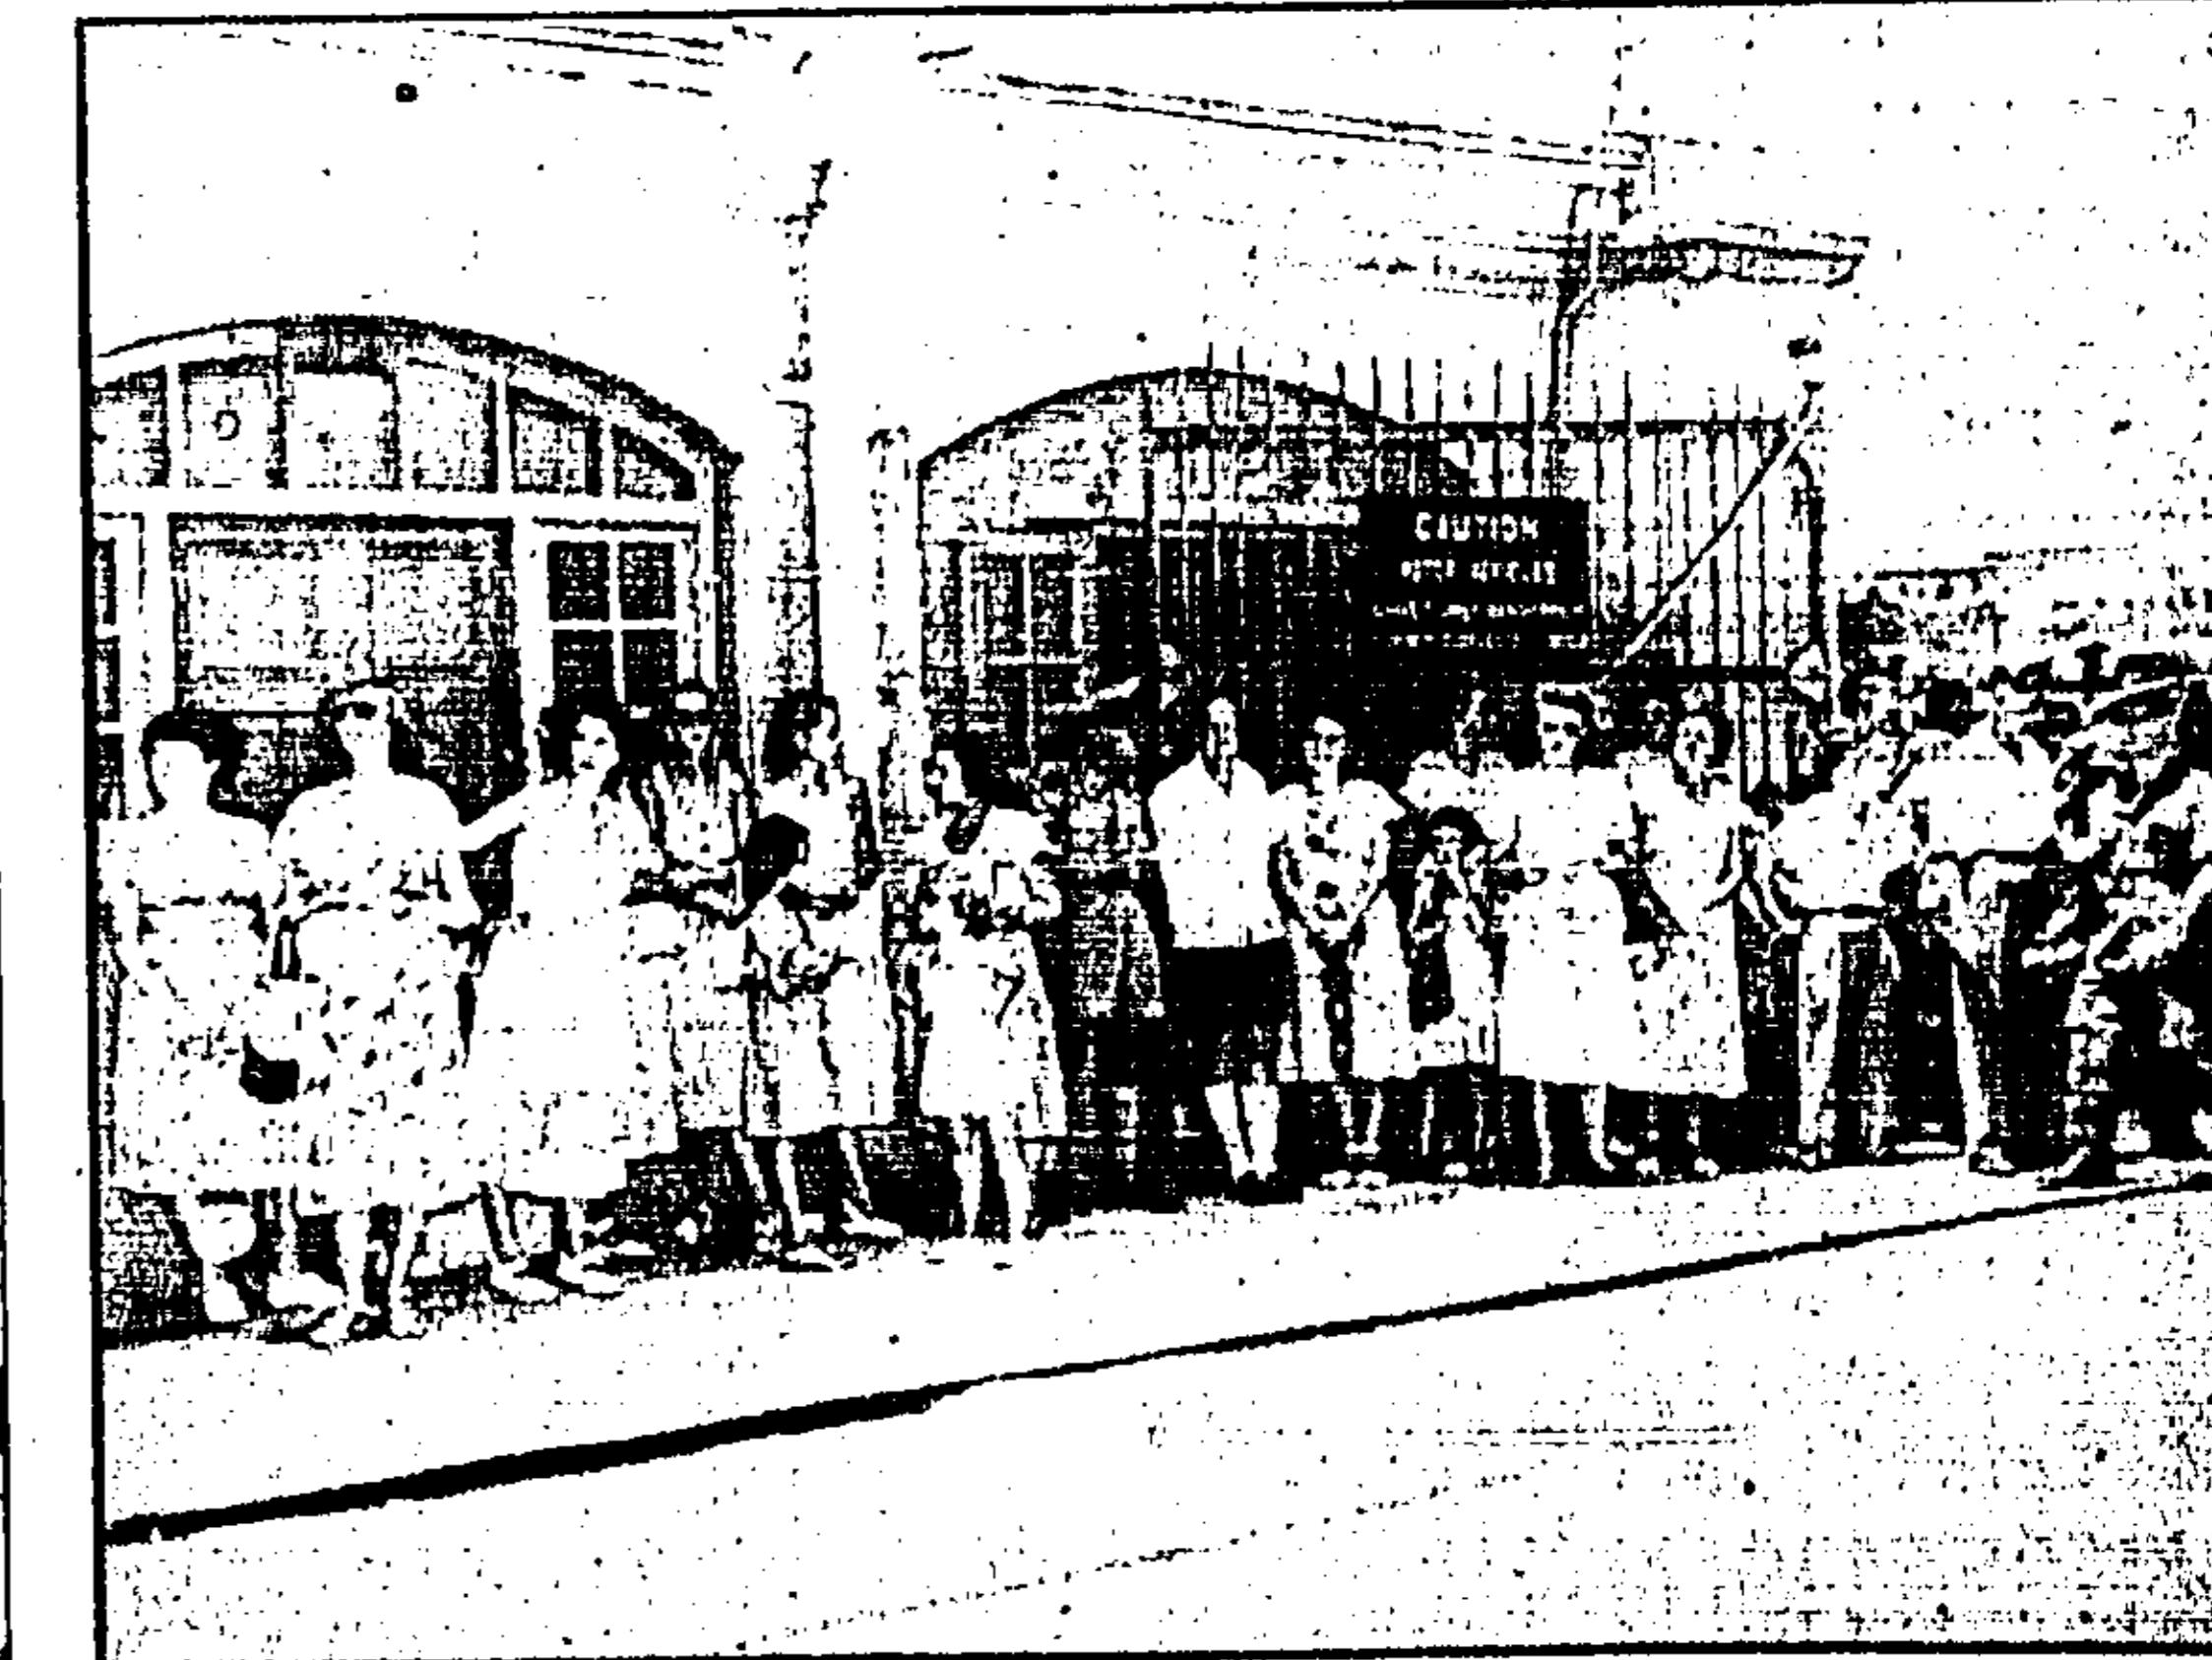

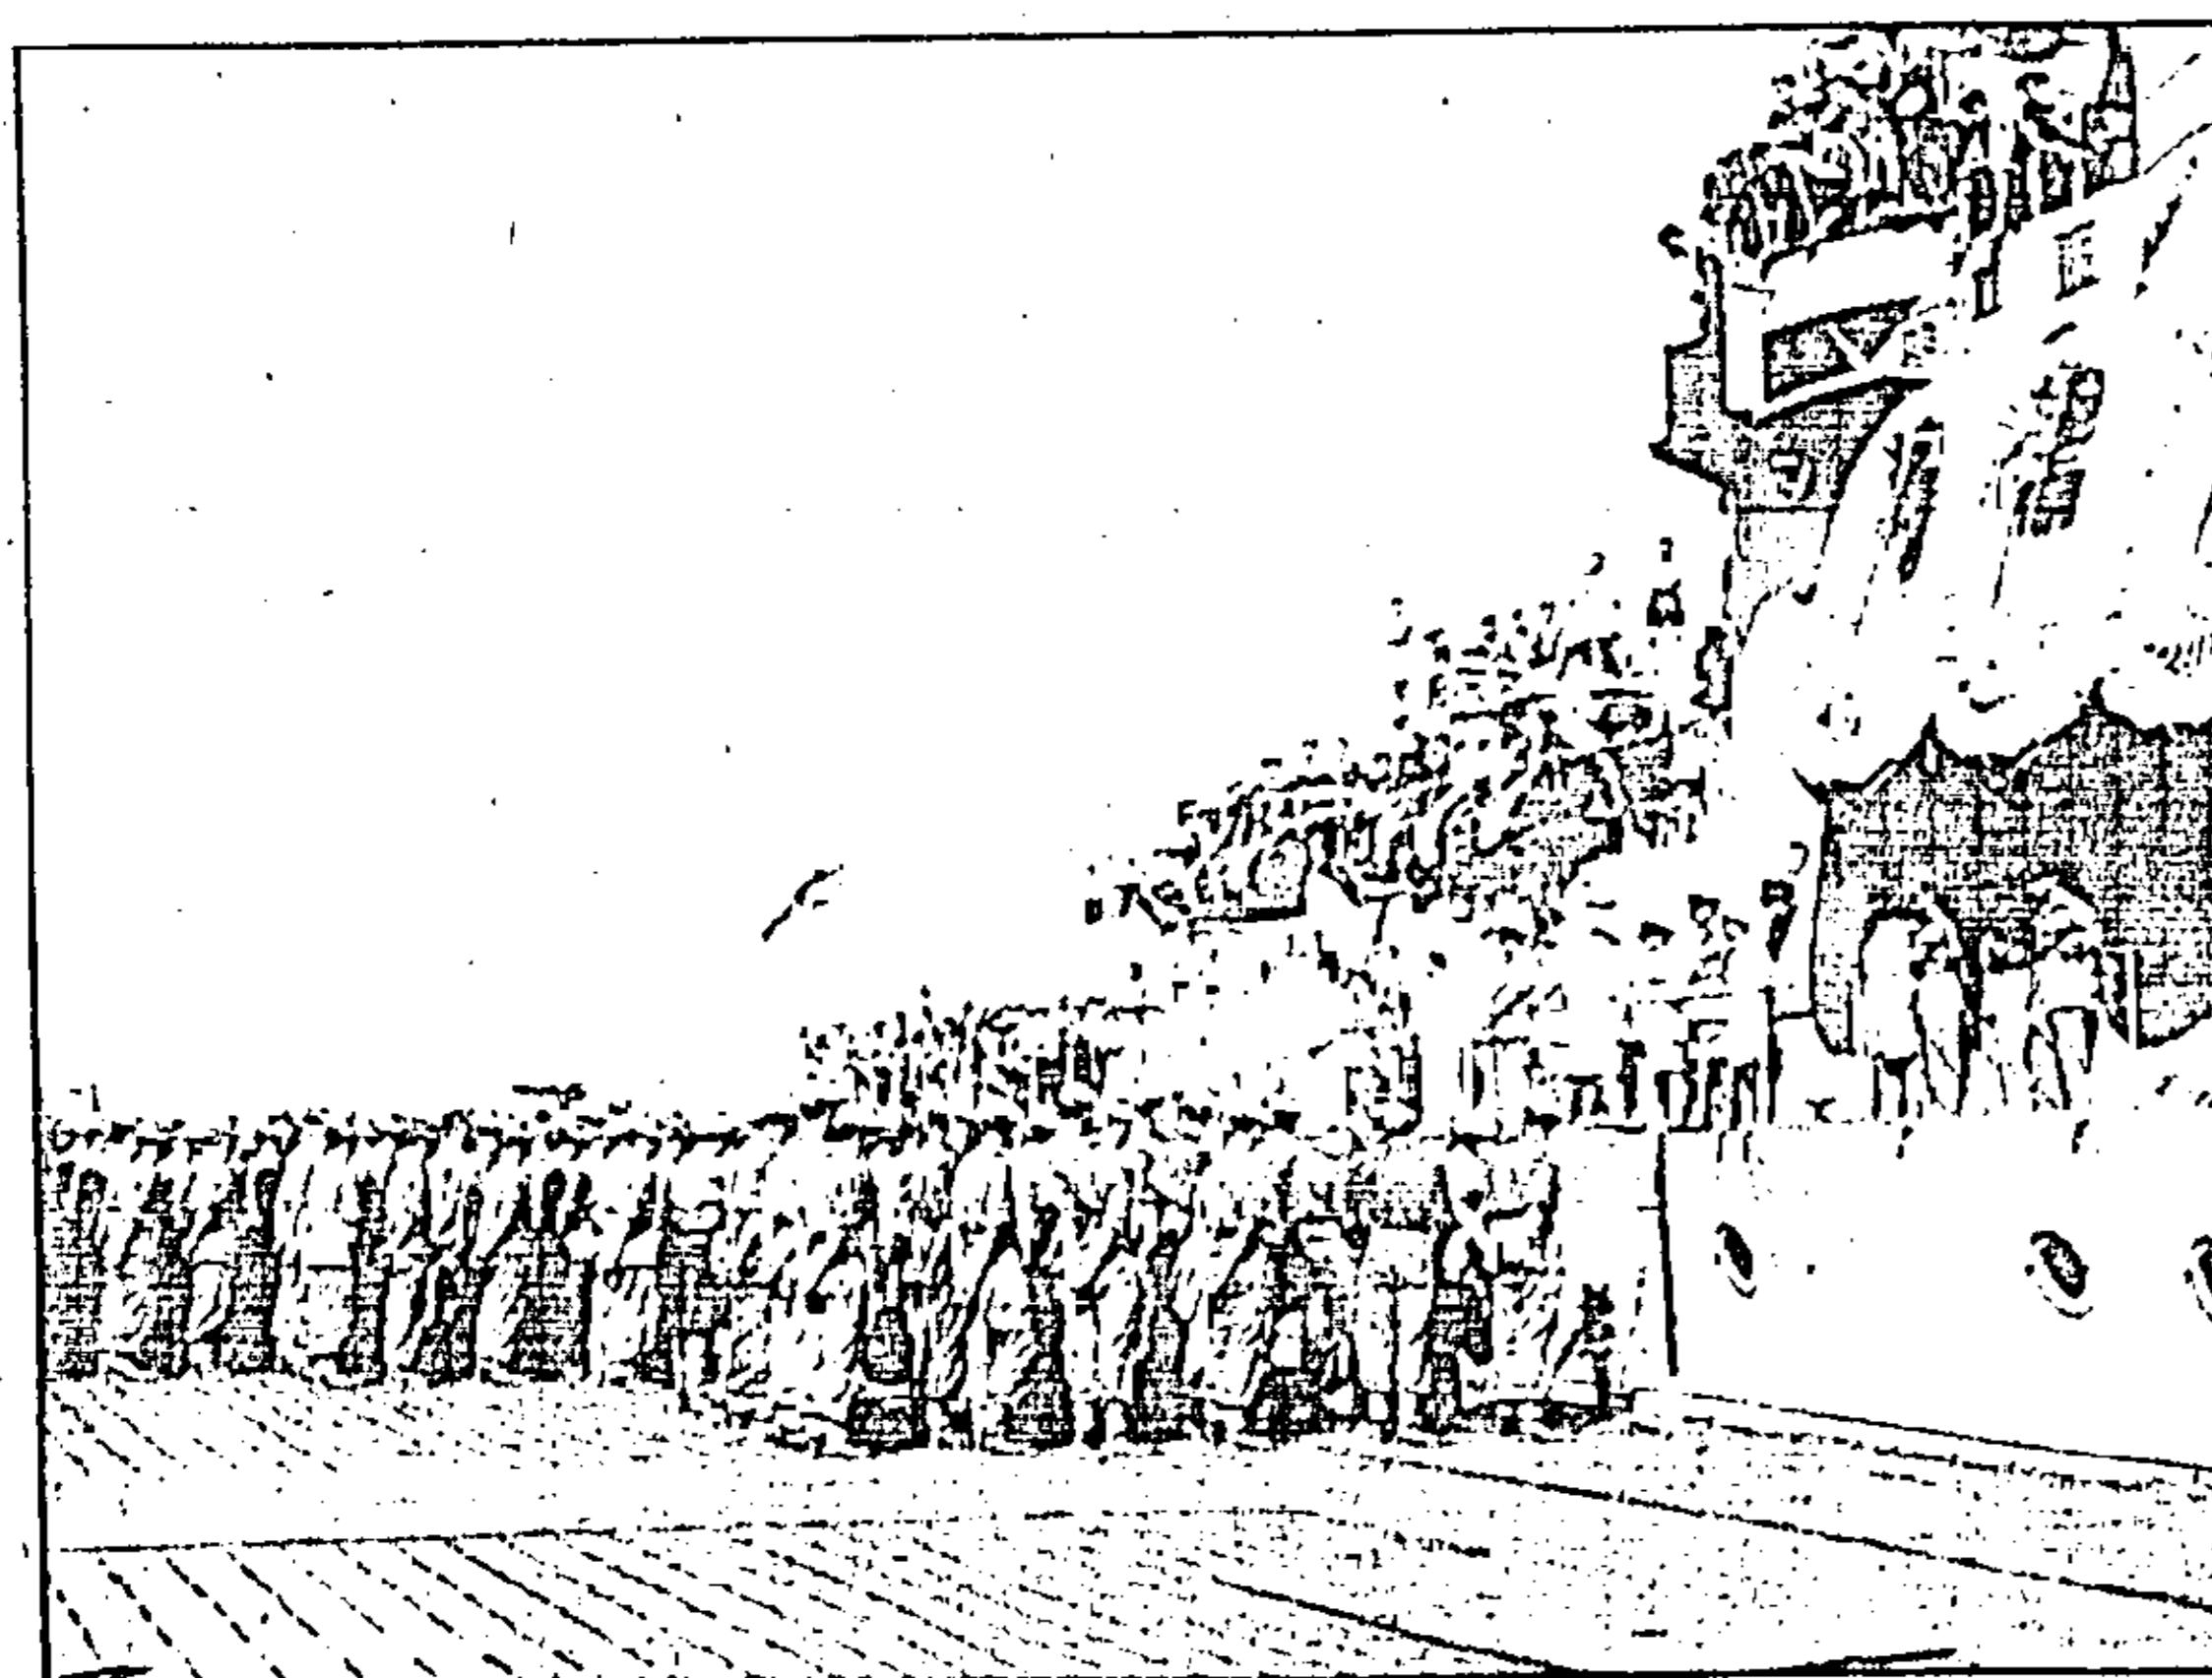

THE shirt-waist dress, crisp and functional, is the big favourite of the season. Here it achieves a dress-up look for a good-looking town cotton in rose colour with detachable collar and cuffs in black. The pin-tucked yoke closes with tiny pearl buttons. The bodice is snug, the peplum jutting out for a nice contrast, and to complete the line, the skirt is straight and slim.

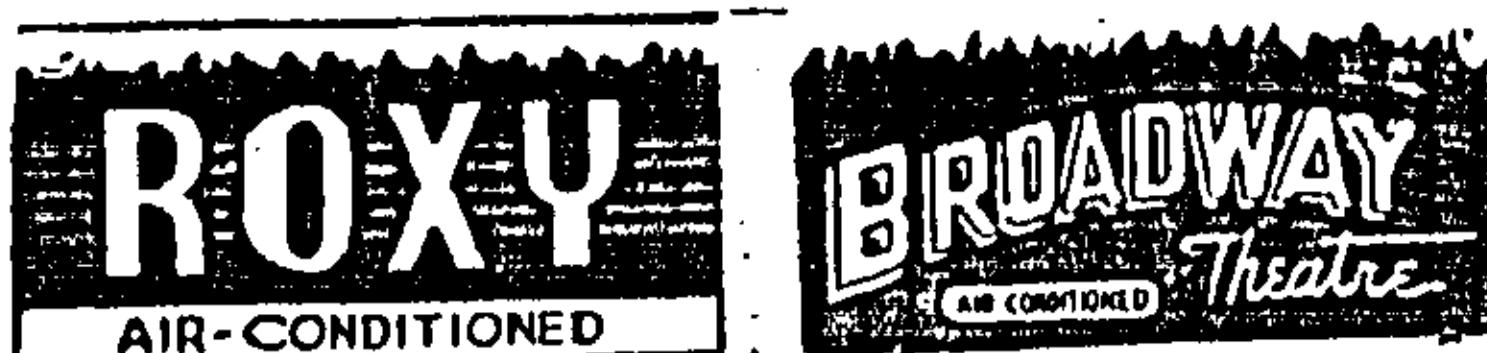

Madame. But what was contributed by the ladies as a sur-

FIRST BRITISH GROUND TROOPS FOR KOREA

IT was a great tribute to those who were responsible for organising the move that, within five days of the first announcement that the 1st Battalion, Middlesex Regiment, and the 1st Battalion, Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders, would be sent from Hongkong to the war front in Korea, the two units were already embarked and on their way north. Here are some scenes of activity on the quayside during embarkation on Friday last. They depict loading of kit and equipment, troops de-training and going aboard, the work of volunteer women canteen helpers and civilians awaiting to cheer the troops on their way. (All Pictures By Telegraph Staff Photographer).

SHOWING TO-DAY
AT 2.30, 5.30, 7.30 & 9.30 P.M.

ROXY ADDED: Latest 20th Century-Fox Movietone News
1. U.S. Forces Press Attack Against Reds in Korea.
2. General MacArthur arriving in Formosa, Meeting
Generalissimo and Mrs. Chiang Kai-shek.
3. U.N. Hearns Warren Austin's Exposure of Russia's Role in Korea War.

BROADWAY ADDED: March of Timo's Latest "REPORT ON THE ATOM."

GALA PREMIERE
THE MOST OUTSTANDING PICTURE OF THE YEAR!

BOOKINGS NOW OPEN!

SHOWING TO-DAY AT 2.30, 5.15, 7.20 & 9.30 P.M.

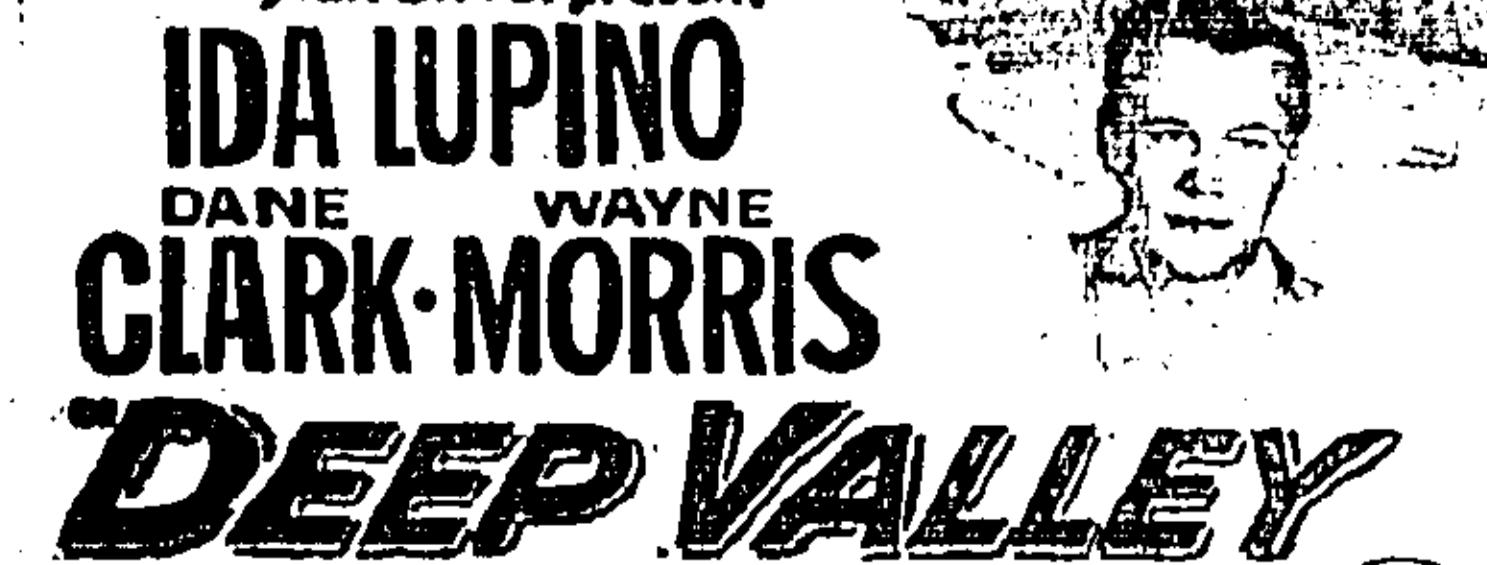

★ NEXT CHANGE ★

QUEEN'S
"COLT .45"
In Technicolor
Randolph SCOTT and Ruth ROMAN
ALHAMBRA
"INCIDENT"

SHOWING MAJESTIC AT 2.30, 5.20,
TO-DAY 7.20 & 9.30
P.M.

TO-DAY EXTRA SHOW AT 12.00 NOON

WARNER BROS. present

ADDED! LATEST KOREAN WAR NEWS
NEXT! Ronald REAGAN • Alexis SMITH in CHANGE! "STALLION ROAD"

World Copyright. By arrangement with Daily Herald.

PAYING LIP-SERVICE TO DEMOCRACY

WE have a saying in England that imitation is the sincerest form of flattery. But there is a certain sort of hypocrisy which is equally flattering. Lip-service to an ideal or to a code of ethics and behaviour is called hypocrisy if it is not accompanied by real and active service as well.

And hypocrisy has always been thought of as unworthy. But it flatters the thing that it pretends to be. It acknowledges something better by using its name. Even Faust in the European legend, who sold his soul to the Devil, said: "Evil, be thou my good!" He recognised good while choosing evil.

It is a notable feature of modern tyrannies that they find it necessary to pay this lip-service to the things which they have turned from and are seeking to destroy. It was not always so.

Then and Now

GENGHIIZ KHAN and Timur were content to appear as the tyrants and conquerors that they were. Their glory would have been diminished if they had pretended to be liberators or defenders of the poor.

When Louis XIV of France declared "I am the State" he meant it, intended it to be so and wanted everyone to know it. Perhaps it is with the figure of Napoleon that the modern practice begins of destroying liberty, not in the name of tyranny, but in that of liberty itself.

To put it as shortly as that will not please Napoleon's admirers; and in truth it is not quite fair, for liberating movements had produced him and liberating movements did in some cases spring up where he passed. But his appetite for conquest and for glory are surely acknowledged. The point is that they found their field of operation at a point in history when national and social freedom had come to mean something. Public opinion was beginning to be a force to reckon with.

Hitler certainly had to reckon with it. It is perfectly true that he exhibited himself in "Mein Kampf" as a sabre-rattler and an absolutist, contemptuous of democracy and regarding people at large as gullible and worthless. But he soon found it necessary, on his way to national power and in his plans for world power, to find peace paying lip-service to war, or defence pretending to be aggressive.

The founders of modern Communism began with certain theories which they derived, or thought they derived, from a study of history, and these they set forth as dogma.

They were right about the pasts they inserted and therefore they must be right about the future. They the Justice of the courts was interpreted everything, not on Marx went wrong: is that he did not foresee that it would be Russia that would carry out the Communist revolution. Marx worked within and against the liberal framework of Western Europe, and that is where he expected Communism to take effect.

He was wrong because the rising standard of living in Western Europe, and the democratic impulse towards spreading the benefits of industrialisation and mitigating its initial evils, left Communism little ground to work on.

Instead of this Communist revolution took place in Russia, which had no liberal tradition to speak of.

Successive directly to Tsarism, Russian Communism has taken on the character of its predecessor. The prophecies have not been fulfilled and the State, so far from withering, has become history's biggest autocracy.

You cannot, in the world today, sell autocracy and dictatorship under their own labels. The very strength of democracy as a human concept is revealed by the lip-service which Communism must pay to it.

His object in offering the prize is to convince himself that the message is too cleverly coded to be worked out in advance.

By Francis Watson

Author of a dozen books of biography and criticism, Francis Watson, had experience in daily journalism after leaving Downing College, Cambridge, where he was a modern language scholar. He has many friends in India and Pakistan, having travelled in every province except Assam in pre-partition days. At the outbreak of war he joined the Government of India for temporary war-service, after a short period with the General Staff; and early in 1940 returned to England.

Mr Watson has also travelled widely in Europe, the Middle East, East Africa and America. He broadcasts regularly in the Eastern Services of the B.B.C., and is well known for talks and feature-programmes in the home services and in television. During the period of transfer of power to India and Pakistan he was adviser to the B.B.C. for their special programmes on the subject.

One of his many interests is art, and he has written many articles about Indian art. He was for a time Director of the Arts Department of the British Council in London, but is now once more a full-time writer and broadcaster.

something that people cling to, its observable or possible value, he despised public opinion, yet but on its relation to this dogma, the elaborate machinery he built up in order to manipulate it showed that at the same time he respected its strength. To attain what they called "a classless society" they openly advocated "class war". And Political elections in Soviet Russia cannot be removed by election as can a Churchill or a Truman. We know that. But surely the real significance is that the Russian rulers think it necessary to stage elections. It is a tribute to the democracy which they oppose.

Nationalism, again, is a concept quite foreign to Marxist theory. Yet consider the national movement that Moscow has first encouraged, then exploited and finally destroyed, within the U.S.S.R., in the satellite States, and in a process of complete submission to a certain boldness of expression. To attain what they called "a classless society" they openly advocated "class war". And they meant war. The revolution that they advocated was to produce "the dictatorship of the proletariat". And they meant

nationalism, again, is a concept quite foreign to Marxist theory. Yet consider the national movement that Moscow has first encouraged, then exploited and finally destroyed, within the U.S.S.R., in the satellite States, and in a process

of complete submission to a certain boldness of expression. To attain what they called "a classless society" they openly advocated "class war". And they meant

nationalism, again, is a concept quite foreign to Marxist theory. Yet consider the national movement that Moscow has first encouraged, then exploited and finally destroyed, within the U.S.S.R., in the satellite States, and in a process

of complete submission to a certain boldness of expression. To attain what they called "a classless society" they openly advocated "class war". And they meant

nationalism, again, is a concept quite foreign to Marxist theory. Yet consider the national movement that Moscow has first encouraged, then exploited and finally destroyed, within the U.S.S.R., in the satellite States, and in a process

of complete submission to a certain boldness of expression. To attain what they called "a classless society" they openly advocated "class war". And they meant

nationalism, again, is a concept quite foreign to Marxist theory. Yet consider the national movement that Moscow has first encouraged, then exploited and finally destroyed, within the U.S.S.R., in the satellite States, and in a process

of complete submission to a certain boldness of expression. To attain what they called "a classless society" they openly advocated "class war". And they meant

nationalism, again, is a concept quite foreign to Marxist theory. Yet consider the national movement that Moscow has first encouraged, then exploited and finally destroyed, within the U.S.S.R., in the satellite States, and in a process

of complete submission to a certain boldness of expression. To attain what they called "a classless society" they openly advocated "class war". And they meant

nationalism, again, is a concept quite foreign to Marxist theory. Yet consider the national movement that Moscow has first encouraged, then exploited and finally destroyed, within the U.S.S.R., in the satellite States, and in a process

of complete submission to a certain boldness of expression. To attain what they called "a classless society" they openly advocated "class war". And they meant

nationalism, again, is a concept quite foreign to Marxist theory. Yet consider the national movement that Moscow has first encouraged, then exploited and finally destroyed, within the U.S.S.R., in the satellite States, and in a process

of complete submission to a certain boldness of expression. To attain what they called "a classless society" they openly advocated "class war". And they meant

nationalism, again, is a concept quite foreign to Marxist theory. Yet consider the national movement that Moscow has first encouraged, then exploited and finally destroyed, within the U.S.S.R., in the satellite States, and in a process

of complete submission to a certain boldness of expression. To attain what they called "a classless society" they openly advocated "class war". And they meant

nationalism, again, is a concept quite foreign to Marxist theory. Yet consider the national movement that Moscow has first encouraged, then exploited and finally destroyed, within the U.S.S.R., in the satellite States, and in a process

of complete submission to a certain boldness of expression. To attain what they called "a classless society" they openly advocated "class war". And they meant

nationalism, again, is a concept quite foreign to Marxist theory. Yet consider the national movement that Moscow has first encouraged, then exploited and finally destroyed, within the U.S.S.R., in the satellite States, and in a process

of complete submission to a certain boldness of expression. To attain what they called "a classless society" they openly advocated "class war". And they meant

nationalism, again, is a concept quite foreign to Marxist theory. Yet consider the national movement that Moscow has first encouraged, then exploited and finally destroyed, within the U.S.S.R., in the satellite States, and in a process

of complete submission to a certain boldness of expression. To attain what they called "a classless society" they openly advocated "class war". And they meant

nationalism, again, is a concept quite foreign to Marxist theory. Yet consider the national movement that Moscow has first encouraged, then exploited and finally destroyed, within the U.S.S.R., in the satellite States, and in a process

of complete submission to a certain boldness of expression. To attain what they called "a classless society" they openly advocated "class war". And they meant

nationalism, again, is a concept quite foreign to Marxist theory. Yet consider the national movement that Moscow has first encouraged, then exploited and finally destroyed, within the U.S.S.R., in the satellite States, and in a process

of complete submission to a certain boldness of expression. To attain what they called "a classless society" they openly advocated "class war". And they meant

nationalism, again, is a concept quite foreign to Marxist theory. Yet consider the national movement that Moscow has first encouraged, then exploited and finally destroyed, within the U.S.S.R., in the satellite States, and in a process

of complete submission to a certain boldness of expression. To attain what they called "a classless society" they openly advocated "class war". And they meant

nationalism, again, is a concept quite foreign to Marxist theory. Yet consider the national movement that Moscow has first encouraged, then exploited and finally destroyed, within the U.S.S.R., in the satellite States, and in a process

of complete submission to a certain boldness of expression. To attain what they called "a classless society" they openly advocated "class war". And they meant

nationalism, again, is a concept quite foreign to Marxist theory. Yet consider the national movement that Moscow has first encouraged, then exploited and finally destroyed, within the U.S.S.R., in the satellite States, and in a process

of complete submission to a certain boldness of expression. To attain what they called "a classless society" they openly advocated "class war". And they meant

nationalism, again, is a concept quite foreign to Marxist theory. Yet consider the national movement that Moscow has first encouraged, then exploited and finally destroyed, within the U.S.S.R., in the satellite States, and in a process

of complete submission to a certain boldness of expression. To attain what they called "a classless society" they openly advocated "class war". And they meant

nationalism, again, is a concept quite foreign to Marxist theory. Yet consider the national movement that Moscow has first encouraged, then exploited and finally destroyed, within the U.S.S.R., in the satellite States, and in a process

of complete submission to a certain boldness of expression. To attain what they called "a classless society" they openly advocated "class war". And they meant

nationalism, again, is a concept quite foreign to Marxist theory. Yet consider the national movement that Moscow has first encouraged, then exploited and finally destroyed, within the U.S.S.R., in the satellite States, and in a process

of complete submission to a certain boldness of expression. To attain what they called "a classless society" they openly advocated "class war". And they meant

nationalism, again, is a concept quite foreign to Marxist theory. Yet consider the national movement that Moscow has first encouraged, then exploited and finally destroyed, within the U.S.S.R., in the satellite States, and in a process

of complete submission to a certain boldness of expression. To attain what they called "a classless society" they openly advocated "class war". And they meant

nationalism, again, is a concept quite foreign to Marxist theory. Yet consider the national movement that Moscow has first encouraged, then exploited and finally destroyed, within the U.S.S.R., in the satellite States, and in a process

of complete submission to a certain boldness of expression. To attain what they called "a classless society" they openly advocated "class war". And they meant

nationalism, again, is a concept quite foreign to Marxist theory. Yet consider the national movement that Moscow has first encouraged, then exploited and finally destroyed, within the U.S.S.R., in the satellite States, and in a process

of complete submission to a certain boldness of expression. To attain what they called "a classless society" they openly advocated "class war". And they meant

nationalism, again, is a concept quite foreign to Marxist theory. Yet consider the national movement that Moscow has first encouraged, then exploited and finally destroyed, within the U.S.S.R., in the satellite States, and in a process

of complete submission to a certain boldness of expression. To attain what they called "a classless society" they openly advocated "class war". And they meant

nationalism, again, is a concept quite foreign to Marxist theory. Yet consider the national movement that Moscow has first encouraged, then exploited and finally destroyed, within the U.S.S.R., in the satellite States, and in a process

of complete submission to a certain boldness of expression. To attain what they called "a classless society" they openly advocated "class war". And they meant

nationalism, again, is a concept quite foreign to Marxist theory. Yet consider the national movement that Moscow has first encouraged, then exploited and finally destroyed, within the U.S.S.R., in the satellite States, and in a process

of complete submission to a certain boldness of expression. To attain what they called "a classless society" they openly advocated "class war". And they meant

nationalism, again, is a concept quite foreign to Marxist theory. Yet consider the national movement that Moscow has first encouraged, then exploited and finally destroyed, within the U.S.S.R., in the satellite States, and in a process

of complete submission to a certain boldness of expression. To attain what they called "a classless society" they openly advocated "class war". And they meant

nationalism, again, is a concept quite foreign to Marxist theory. Yet consider the national movement that Moscow has first encouraged, then exploited and finally destroyed, within the U.S.S.R., in the satellite States, and in a process

of complete submission to a certain boldness of expression. To attain what they called "a classless society" they openly advocated "class war". And they meant

nationalism, again, is a concept quite foreign to Marxist theory. Yet consider the national movement that Moscow has first encouraged, then exploited and finally destroyed, within the U.S.S.R., in the satellite States, and in a process

of complete submission to a certain boldness of expression. To attain what they called "a classless society" they openly advocated "class war". And they meant

nationalism, again, is a concept quite foreign to Marxist theory. Yet consider the national movement that Moscow has first encouraged, then exploited and finally destroyed, within the U.S.S.R., in the satellite States, and in a process

of complete submission to a certain boldness of expression. To attain what they called "a classless society" they openly advocated "class war". And they

Bulgaria Said To Be Potential Threat to Greece

Lake Success, Aug. 27.

The United Nations Special Committee on the Balkans stated today that Bulgaria, which has continued to assist the guerrilla raiding and sabotage parties near the Greek border, constitutes a potential threat to Greece.

In a unanimous report, the Committee urged the General Assembly to call upon all States, especially Albania and Bulgaria, to do nothing which would encourage or permit a renewal of the armed action against Greece and to permit international verification of the disarming and disposition of the Greek guerrillas on their territories.

While the guerrilla leaders have suspended their efforts to dominate the country by armed forces, their aims have not been abandoned and the remnants of the movement within Greece have not been resolved, it stated.

It asked all countries not to provide arms or materials of war to Albania and Bulgaria until it was determined that the unlawful assistance of these States to the Greek guerrillas has ceased.

It recommended that the General Assembly again call upon Albania and Bulgaria and Greece to establish diplomatic relations and provide an effective machinery for controlling their common frontiers.

It expressed the gravest concern that no Greek children had been repatriated to their homes in Greece and that two General Assembly resolutions calling for the repatriation of the children, estimated at 20,296, harboured in the countries north of Greece in January this year, had no practical results.

STANDING CHALLENGE

This problem constituted a continuing source of international friction and a standing challenge to the United Nations.

Commenting on its efforts to restore good neighbourly relations between Greece and her northern neighbours, the Committee said that the Greek Government had co-operated with it while the Governments of Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia had refused even to recognise it.

But it noted indications of "possible improvement" in Greek-Yugoslav relations since the closing of the frontier in July, 1949.

It mentioned specifically the definite steps towards the re-establishment of normal diplomatic relations between the two countries and the Yugoslav proposals for implementing the Assembly resolution on the repatriation of Greek children.

FOUR PROBLEMS

The report, which covered the period from mid-September, 1949, to July, 1950, declared that normal relations between Greece and her northern neighbours could not be restored until four "urgent problems" were solved:

These were:

1.—The international verification of the disarming and disposition of Greek guerrilla outside Greece;

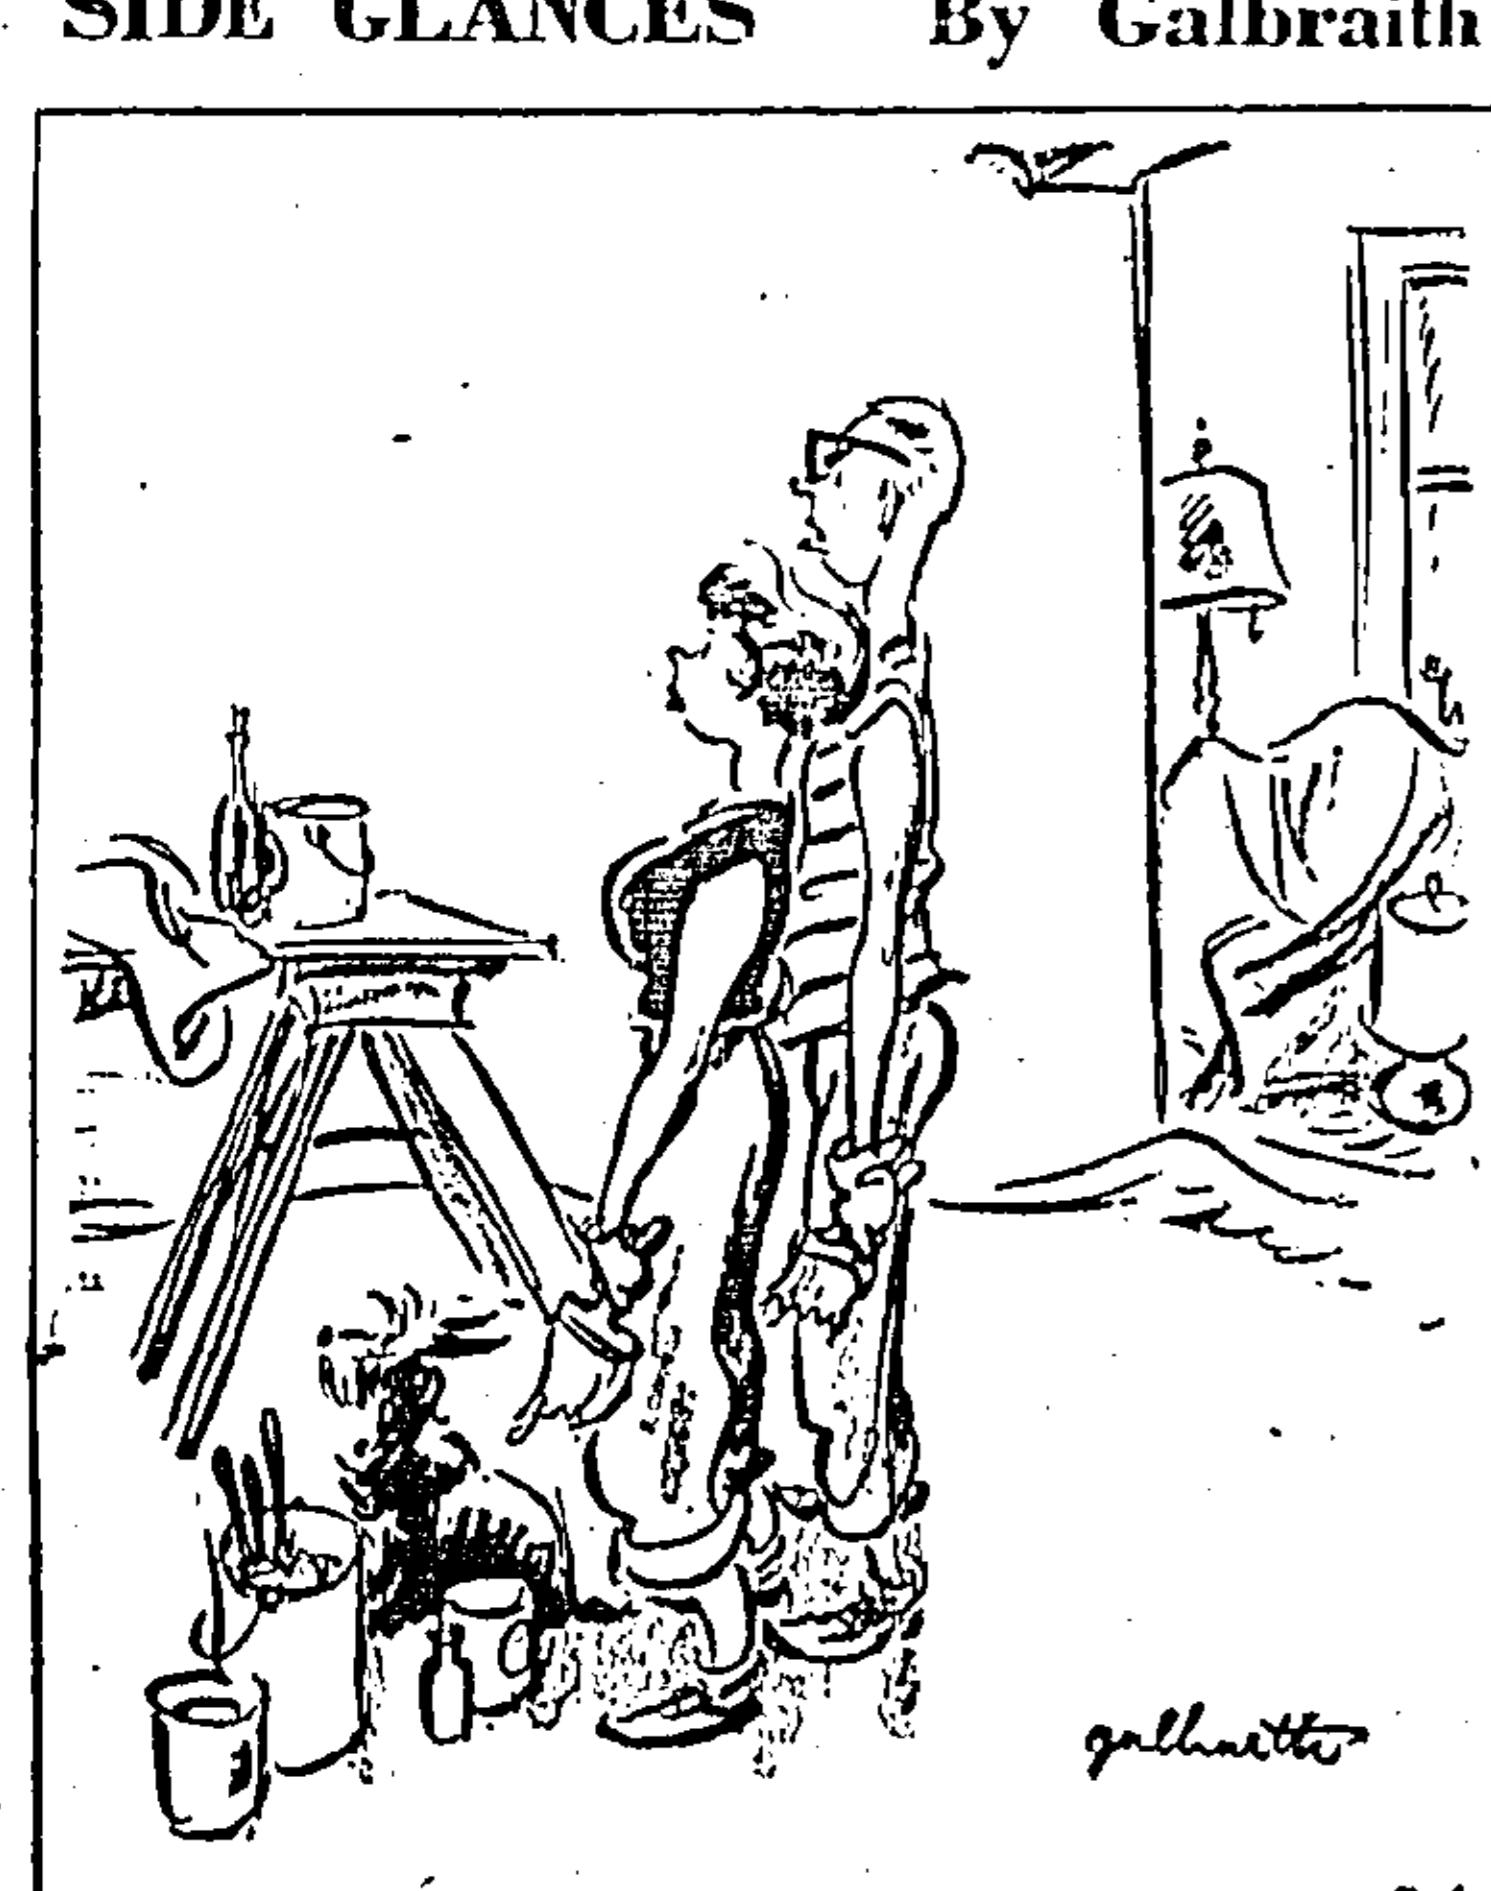

2.—The repatriation of Greek children;

3.—The repatriation of detained Greek soldiers and other Greeks nationals;

4.—The conclusion of conventions for the regulation and control of the common frontiers between Greece and her northern neighbours.

The Committee suggested that the Assembly consider

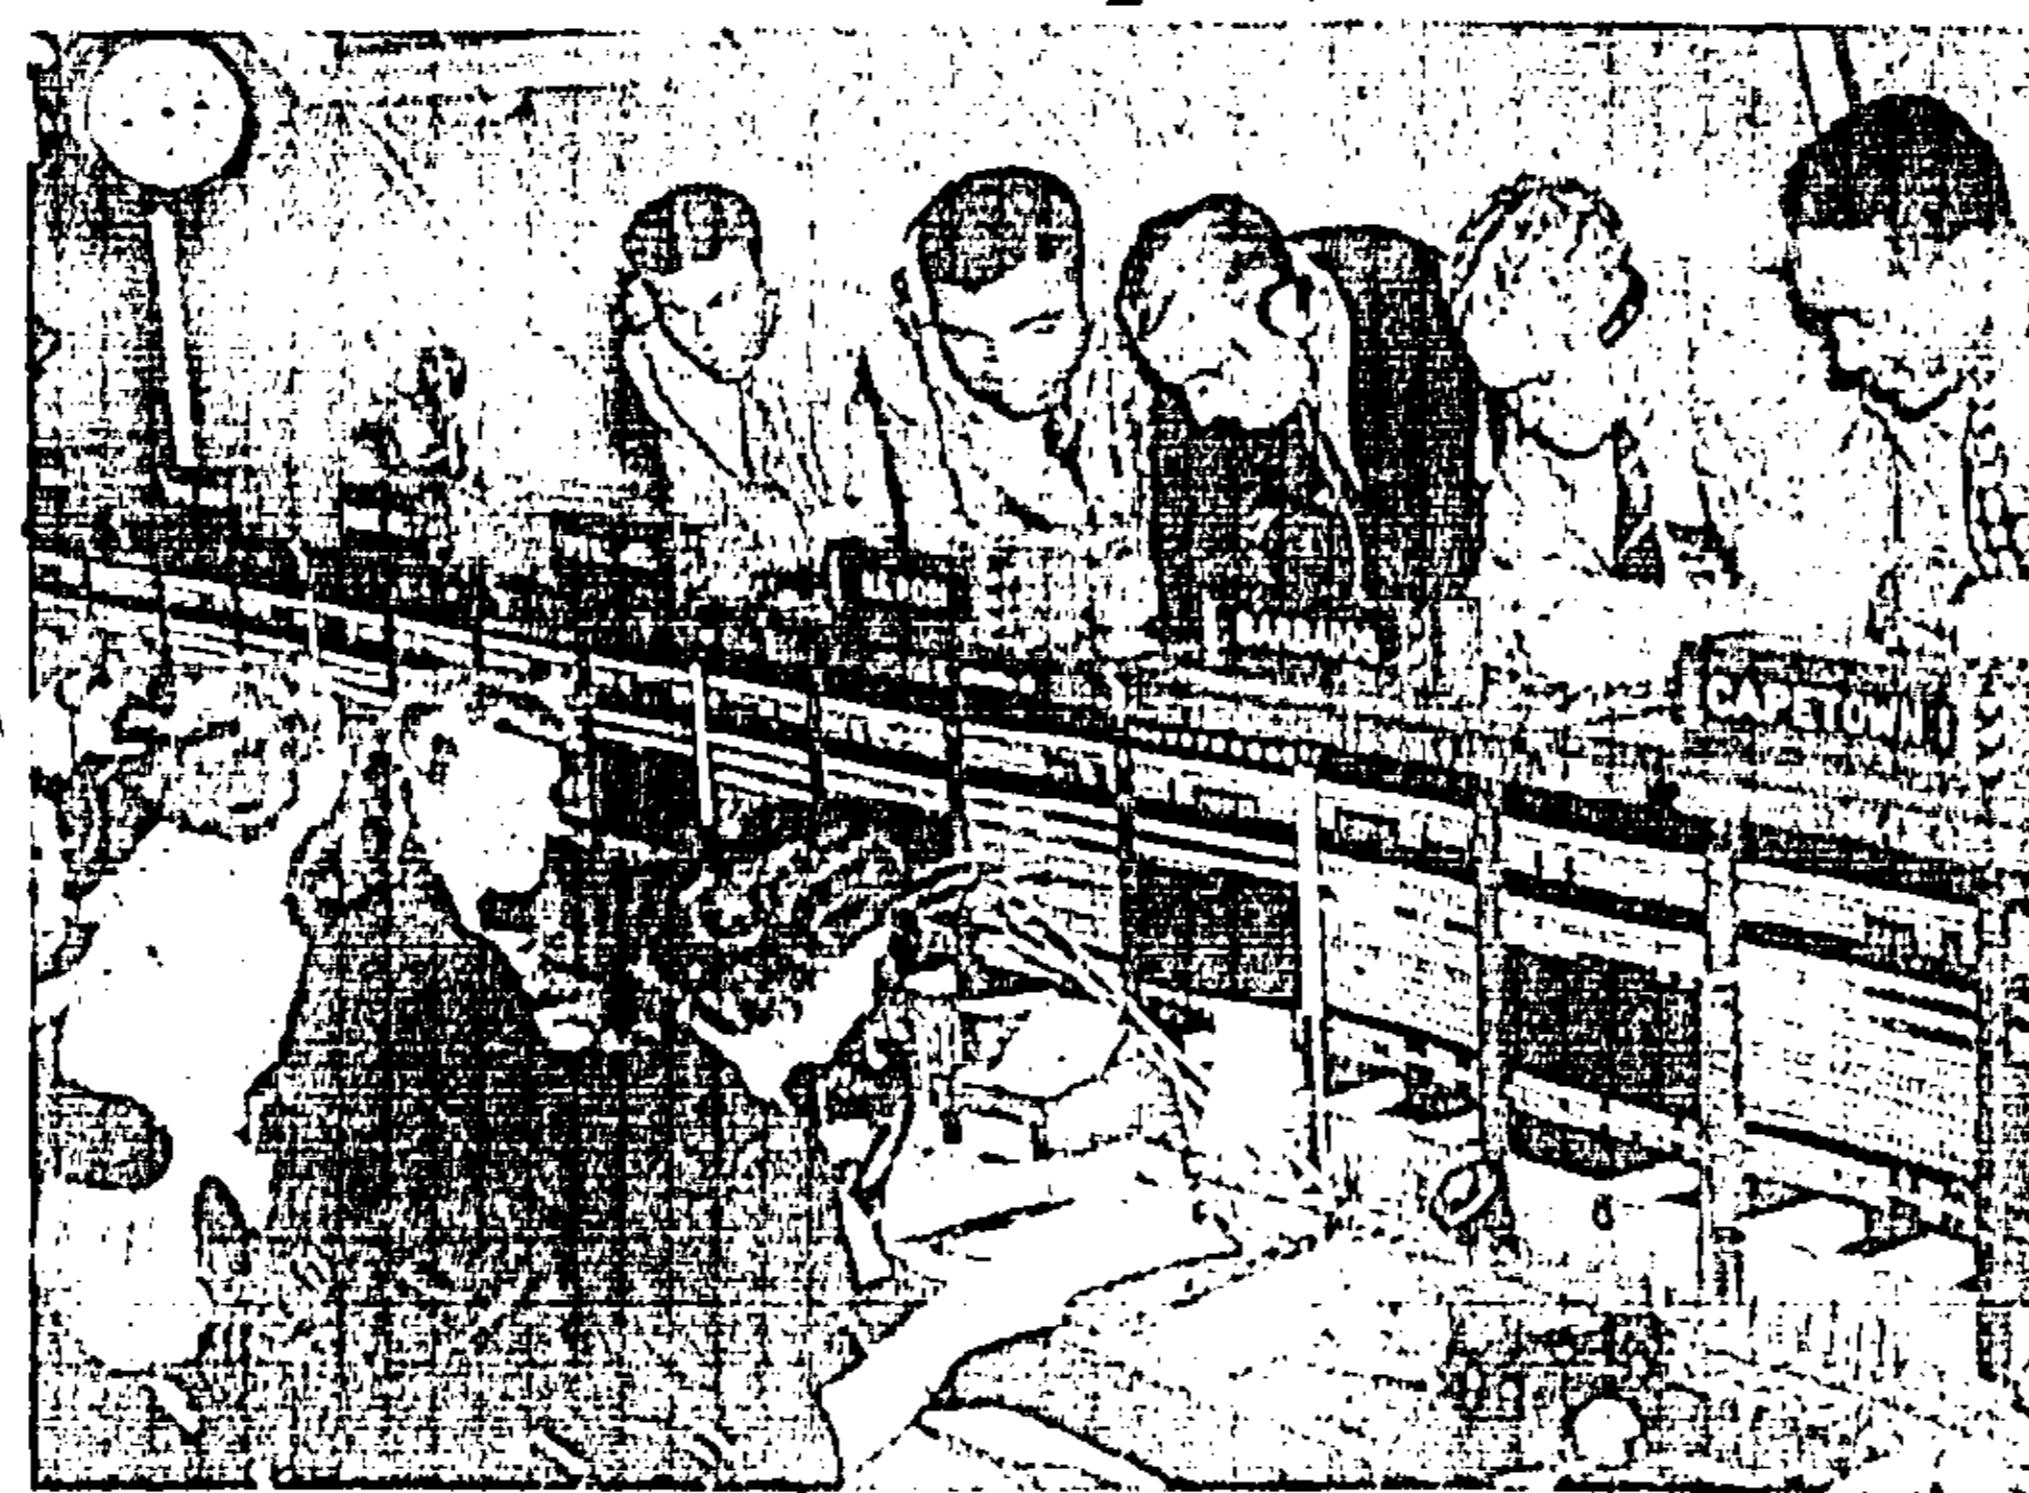

SIDE GLANCES By Galbraith

COPYR. 1950 BY MEA SERVICE, INC. T. M. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

17-4

Cricketers Telephone Home

Allies Urged To Strengthen Western Germany

Stuttgart, Aug. 27.

The German Vice-Chancellor, Herr Franz Blücher, today called for the conclusion of a peace treaty with Germany by the Allies and "strengthening" of Western Germany to a degree that would protect her from potential aggressors.

KOREAN FIGHTING

(Continued from Page 1)

Penmaenmawr, Aug. 27.

At least six people were killed and scores were injured when the Irish mail express, packed with holiday-makers returning from Ireland, crashed at three o'clock this morning.

Hundreds of railway workers and residents of this small town were continuing their search in the twisted wreckage of the telescoped carriages 13 hours after the smash because more people might be buried underneath.

The train, which was speeding from the North Wales port of Holyhead to London, ran head-on into a light railway engine which stood around a bend just past the Penmaenmawr station platform.

The impact forced the nose of the big express engine high into the air. It came to rest on the tender of the smaller engine, and both ploughed up the track for 200 yards.

The fireman of the mail train, by prompt action, prevented an even greater disaster. Though his legs were injured, he ran down the parallel line and put out the burning tracks.

Their warning stopped a freight train-laden with explosives—within inches of the wreckage when rescue work had only just begun.—Reuter.

Hurricane

Hits Havana

Miami, Aug. 27.

Storm warnings were ordered to be hoisted at Key West and the Lower Florida Keys today after reports that Havana was battered by 65-mile-an-hour winds last night.

The Miami Weather Bureau said that reports from the Cuban capital indicated that the tropical storm, the remnant of a 120-mile-an-hour hurricane, struck the city early last night.

The storm was said today to be moving in a westerly direction six miles an hour. Shipping in western Cuba, the South-Eastern Gulf of Mexico and the Yucatan Channel were warned against dangerous gales and possible hurricane winds.—Reuter.

Reported from the Korean war front described the situation as follows:

North-east sector:—North Korean drives on the key East coast port of Pohang brought one tank-reinforced column within four miles of the town tonight in face of incessant naval and air bombardments.

A second column, operating inland, captured Kigye, nine miles from Pohang.

Central sector:—North Koreans seized Uihung, 20 miles north of Taegu, after a 36-hour attack and held the village despite two South Korean counter-attacks. The Communists reinforced their bridgehead east of the Nakdong River about 14 miles south-west of Taegu.

South sector:—Five North Korean battalions continued minor probing thrusts.

HEAVY LOSSES

United Nations Mustang fighters today caused heavy casualties among North Koreans attacking north of Uihung, 20 miles north of Taegu, an official spokesman stated tonight.

The planes struck large concentrations of troops and equipment in this area, where the Sixth Korean Division has lost and regained a mile in the last 36 hours in the face of a heavy artillery bombardment.

Pilots reported direct bomb hits on three Northern gun-pits, and claimed to have wiped out eight machine-gun nests and damaged a highway bridge north of Uisong, about 11 miles north of Uihung.

Heavy fighting is continuing around Uihung, and near Kigye, pilots said.

Fighter-bombers destroyed three Communist aircraft on the ground at Chorwon, 23 miles north of the 38th Parallel, the spokesman said.—Reuter.

PATROL SWIMS RIVER

Tokyo, Aug. 28.

Heavy fighting continued on the northern front in Korea, where the Communists captured the town of Uihung yesterday, but there were no significant changes in the line, General MacArthur's communiqué reported soon after midnight.

The communiqué announced that seven miles west of Changnyong, in the old Nakdong "bulge" sector, a United Nations patrol swam the river under the cover of artillery and tank fire, destroying seven Communist rafts and making three unverifiable.

They returned safely in spite of heavy Northern small-arms fire. Further north, near the Hyonpung bridgehead, 14 miles south-west of Taegu, seven Communist tanks were spotted moving up to the river.—Reuter.

4.—Liberalism and Socialism have much in common and cannot be thought of separately.

"Only security from fear of economic depression makes life worth living."

Sir Andrew MacFadyean, President of the British Liberal Party, told the rally the West must seek not only unification of Western Europe—but of all Europe.

M. Roger Motz, Belgian Senator, said the Belgian Liberal Party believed close co-operation between Germany and France was a guarantee of peace.

The planes struck large concentrations of troops and equipment in this area, where the Sixth Korean Division has lost and regained a mile in the last 36 hours in the face of a heavy artillery bombardment.

Pilots reported direct bomb hits on three Northern gun-pits, and claimed to have wiped out eight machine-gun nests and damaged a highway bridge north of Uisong, about 11 miles north of Uihung.

Heavy fighting is continuing around Uihung, and near Kigye, pilots said.

Fighter-bombers destroyed three Communist aircraft on the ground at Chorwon, 23 miles north of the 38th Parallel, the spokesman said.—Reuter.

PATROL SWIMS RIVER

Tokyo, Aug. 28.

Heavy fighting continued on the northern front in Korea, where the Communists captured the town of Uihung yesterday, but there were no significant changes in the line, General MacArthur's communiqué reported soon after midnight.

The communiqué announced that seven miles west of Changnyong, in the old Nakdong "bulge" sector, a United Nations patrol swam the river under the cover of artillery and tank fire, destroying seven Communist rafts and making three unverifiable.

They returned safely in spite of heavy Northern small-arms fire. Further north, near the Hyonpung bridgehead, 14 miles south-west of Taegu, seven Communist tanks were spotted moving up to the river.—Reuter.

This is the most important discovery ever made in Britain.

A statement issued by the Department of Scientific and Industrial Research said: "Recently high radio activity has been discovered in the Dolgellau black sand shales of North Wales, where possibly a million tons of uranium is present in sub-marginal grade rocks carrying 80 grams per ton."

A departmental spokesman said that the deposits were of "very low grade of ore" and would not be economical to exploit under normal circumstances. The minimum for an economic working of uranium ore deposits would be at least 150 grams to the ton, almost double the incidence at Dolygellau.

The discovery in Wales was made several months ago, the spokesman added. The British Government last year offered a maximum of £1,540 per ton for uranium found in this country and the Colonies, with a promise to maintain this minimum for 10 years.

A new processing plant for producing Uranium-235, used in the Hiroshima atomic bomb, is being built at Cogenhurst, in Cheshire.—Reuter.

If we hadn't done the job ourselves, I certainly would demand that it be done all over again!

BRITAIN NOW WITHHOLDING ALL VITAL STRATEGIC MATERIALS FROM RUSSIA

London, Aug. 27.

The Overseas Trade Minister, Mr Arthur Bottomley, declared here today that Britain was withholding all vital strategic materials in her trading with the Soviet Union.

Commenting on Mr Winston Churchill's radio statement last night that a British firm was supplying Russia with some materials of the class required for tank manufacture and repair, he told Reuter: "In supplying goods to Russia, Britain has been careful to withhold any commodities which come into the category of strategic priority."

Mr Bottomley, who negotiated Britain's trading arrangements with Russia in 1949 and this year, added: "What has happened is that we have had essential supplies from Russia in the shape of grain and timber and in return we have had to make payment."

"The goods supplied by Britain, while covering a large range, have been outside the category of those necessary for building up war potential,"

"The plane, a development of the standard Meteor jet fighter, is faster and carries more radar interception equipment than any known night fighter, its makers, the Hawker Siddeley group, stated.

They claimed it to be the biggest and heaviest jet night fighter in the world. Its official name is the Armstrong Whitworth NF-11 Meteor night jet fighter.

The NF-11 will be capable of spotting its quarry with elaborate radar gear, the makers said.

Flying at a speed greater than any known night fighter, it will be able to hang on to that quarry for long periods, its range and endurance being considerably greater than usually found in jet fighters.

The NF-11 is powered by two Rolls Royce Derwent jet engines and has a length of 48 feet, six inches and a wing span of 43 feet. Its four 20-millimetre cannons are fired electrically. The target is sought out through an electrically-glo sight.—Reuter.

Members of the victorious West Indies cricket team recently visited the London Post Office long distance international telephone exchange. Here Weekes, Walcott, Goddard, Williams and Johnson are seen watching the telephonists connecting Barbadoes. Later Goddard, captain of the team, and his wife spoke to their children in the West Indies on the telephone.—(London Express Service).

ARMY ACTS TO PREVENT STRIKE

Washington, Aug. 27.

The United States military authorities, implementing President Truman's orders for the Army to seize the American railways to avoid a general strike, were putting a skeleton staff of 50 into the lines at noon local time, today.

Mr Karl R. Bendetsen, Assistant Secretary for the Army, said that he had received an assurance from the unions, which last week ordered the strike, that there would be "continued operation of the railroads without impairment of service."

American railwaymen called off their strike tomorrow, threatening a nationwide paralysis, after the President's order for the taking over.

The unions said that they would "gladly" work for the Government. The strike had been called by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Order of Railway Conductors.

The unions are seeking a 40-hour week without loss of pay for employees now working more than 40 hours. They had on several occasions requested the President to seize the railways when negotiations on their demands became deadlocked.—Reuter.

Radio Hongkong

Prague, Aug. 27.

The Czechoslovak Minister of the Interior, M. Vaclav Nosek, addressing a meeting today, warned the people of Czechoslovakia "not to believe the whistling campaign about the strength of the Western camp as spread by those who listen to the Voice of America, the Vatican and other hostile radio stations."

It would be wrong, he said, to compare the balance of power after the first World War with the present international situation. "The decisive forces in Europe today is not an Anglo-French bloc but the Soviet Union together with the People's Democracies in Central and South-Eastern Europe."

The Minister appealed to the population to increase their vigilance and co-operation with the security police.—Reuter.

New Meteor Jet Night Fighter

London, Aug. 27.

The production of a new Meteor jet night fighter for the Royal Air Force, designed to be the backbone of the Western European night defences and described as a flying radar station, was announced here today.

The plane, a development of the standard Meteor jet fighter, is faster and carries more radar interception equipment than any known night fighter, its makers, the Hawker Siddeley group, stated.

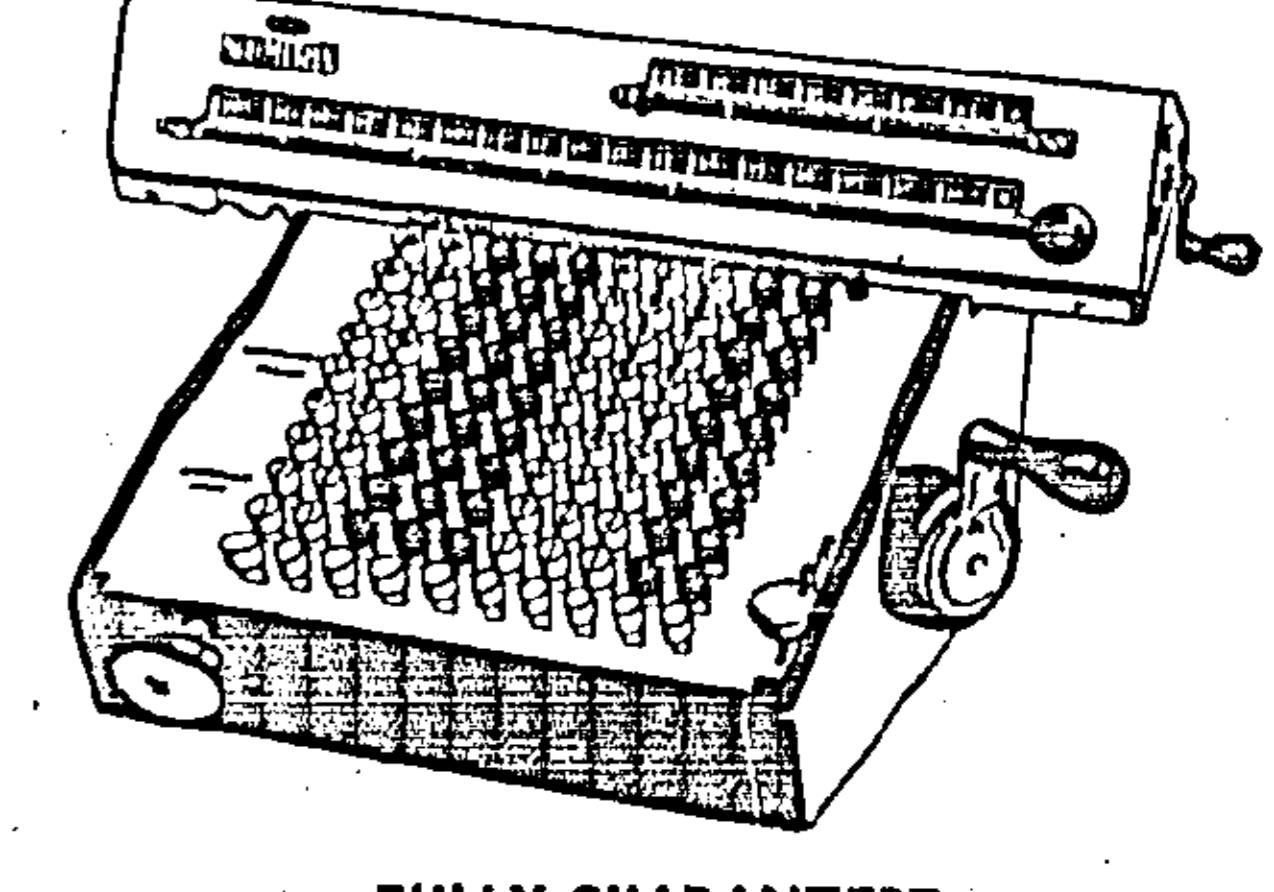

They claimed it to be the biggest and heaviest jet night fighter in the world. Its official name is the Armstrong Whitworth NF-11 Meteor night jet fighter.

The NF-11 will be capable of spotting its quarry with elaborate radar gear, the makers said.

Flying at a speed greater than any known night fighter, it will be able to hang on to that quarry for long periods, its range and endurance being considerably greater than usually found in jet fighters.

The NF-11 is powered by two Rolls Royce Derwent jet engines and has a length of 48 feet, six inches and a wing span of 43 feet. Its four 20-millimetre cannons are fired electrically. The target is sought out through an electrically-glo sight.—Reuter.

NUMERIA

The small Calculating machine of unlimited possibilities.

BONN, Aug. 27.

A spokesman for the Allied High Commission said today that reports from Belgrade of an agreement on German credits for Yugoslavia were premature.

The spokesman added that the three Western Powers would not be likely to approve more than about US$30,000,000 on a short-term basis.—United Press.

Luxury is so inexpensive

DO YOU REALISE THAT TO ENRICH YOUR MEALS WITH WINE

FASTEST HUMAN

Emmanuel MacDonald Bailey of Trinidad has been the fastest man in Europe for four years. For two of these—including Olympic year—he was plagued by pulled muscles.

Now, finally, he has come into his own with a 20.6 seconds effort over the 220 Yards straightaway at Imber Court, Surrey, on Saturday. Jesse Owens holds the world straightaway record with 20.3 seconds.

Fastest furlong run in the world this year outside of MacDonald Bailey's was a 20.6 effort also by American Paul Biernz of Tulane University. That was on a track in the Southern United States, notoriously the world's fastest while English tracks are notoriously the world's slowest.

So MacDonald Bailey has, even the authorities on track should agree, achieved at last the title of World's Fastest Human.—Daily Express Photo.

Third Division Clubs Go On A Spending Orgy

By ARCHIE QUICK

One of the big features of the coming football season is likely to be the fight for promotion at the top of the Third Division South. Clubs have not been slow to notice how the policy of Notts County has paid. Not only are they in the Second Division, but the huge sums they paid for Tommy Lawton and Alan Brown were got back in increased gates before a season was through.

Reading started it all by going into the transfer market in big way no sooner than last season ended, but their purchases have been surpassed by the spending orgy of clubs like Leyton Orient, Crystal Palace and Gillingham.

We know of Notts Forest's consistency last season, of the quality of Northampton and the clubs made by Palace, Watford and Southampton. Add to them the ambitions of Orient and the aims of the new clubs and the only answer one gets is that there is going to be one colossal rumble for one promotion place out of 24 clubs.

FOUR SHOULD GO UP

Personally, now that the Northern and Southern sections of Division Three have been extended, I would like to see two clubs go up, but that would mean four relegation places at the bottom of Division Two and I can never see the full members of the League—that is the Second Division clubs themselves and their friends in the First Division—agreeing to that.

During past fortnight I have visited each of the eleven London clubs during their training and what has impressed me most has been the determination of Orient and Palace to move up. Both have new sets of directors, each Board is almost entirely composed of successful London business men, money with reason is no object and the goal in each case is Division Two. "No longer will we be the Cinderella Clubs of London" is their cry.

I have confirmed that the mentioned £24,000 paid by Orient to Spurs for Welsh International forward Billy Begg was the actual sum of the purchase, and now we have Orient leading with a £25,000 bid for Scotland's Billy Steel and expressing their willingness for him to train in Glasgow and by to all their matches.

I cannot see how team spirit on team understanding can come that way, but his presence would certainly ensure huge rates at the Osborne Road ground, and, as in the case of Leyton Orient, would probably get their money back in one reason—not to mention the possession of a priceless asset.

Palace have spent over £20,000 on Rundle (Sous), Whitaker (Huddersfield) and Stevens (Bradford). Gillingham's expenses have been £25,000 so far, having Norwich's while Millwall had bid £12,000 for Bowler, Hull's Irish International centre-half. It is Third Division finance on an unprecedented scale.

K. O. CANNON . . . . .

BRITAIN WINS MEN'S TEAM CHAMPIONSHIP AT EUROPEAN GAMES

Selected as a reserve after John Wilkinson and Nick Stacey had dropped out of the team through injury, Yorkshireman Brian Shenton turned up the hero of the British team at the European Athletic Championships when he ran Europe's best sprinters into the ground in the 200 Metres Sprint Final to win comfortably by three yards and contribute to an unexpected British team victory in the Men's events.

Britain's 1,600 Metres Relay team set a new European record of 3 minutes 10.2 seconds in winning from Italy and Sweden and Alan Patterson, the young Scots high jumper, up to 6 feet 7½ inches at his best but always unpredictable, won at just under 6 feet 6 inches.

The heroine of the British team was 16-year-old June Foulds, who just held off the mighty Fanny Blankers-Koen and Russia's anchor runner in a photo finish in the 400 Metres Relay.

Britain, with six gold medals, one silver and four bronze, finished ahead of France, with 3-7-1, and Italy with 3-4-0, in the men's events. Russia, with a score of 4-4-3, easily beat Holland, with 3-2-6, for the Women's Team Championship.

Reuter's final tabulation does not divide the Championships into men's and women's events. The Aggregate Championship was won by Russia with 112 points, Britain's being second with 108 and France third with 107. With France almost certain to have scored more heavily in the women's events, the Men's Team Championship must be Britain's.

The final tabulation gives Britain eight gold medals in all. One result has not come through and it may be presumed that Sheila Alexander or Dorothy Tyler won the Women's High Jump for Britain.

Brussels, Aug. 27. record time. Mabrouk slowed down near the post and was passed by Nankeville. The 400 metres was covered in 60.6 secs. The 800 metres in 2 mins. 1 sec. and the kilometre in 2 mins. 32.6 secs.

A. Filiput, of Italy, ran a beautiful race to win the Men's 100-metres final passed by Nankeville. The 400 metres was covered in 60.6 secs. The 800 metres in 2 mins. 1 sec. and the kilometre in 2 mins. 32.6 secs.

SWEDES BLANKED OUT

There were 16 starters for the 3,000-metres steeplechase. The little Yugoslav, P. Segedin, who won the British title in July, set a hot pace and at the halfway stage led from Soederberg of Sweden, the pair being well ahead of the field.

Stokken, of Norway, was then lying 10th. Segedin had shaken off the Swedes with two laps to go at which point the Norwegian had moved into sixth place.

With a lap to go, the Czech, Roudny, came on the scene. The Yugoslav led at the bell from Roudny, Blomster, of Finland, and Stokken. Two hundred metres from home the Czech challenged with a terrific burst and won comfortably from the tired Segedin, Blomster, and Stokken.

The weather was warm with a nice breeze and a shirt-sleeved crowd packed in the hot sun-shine.

FANNY KOEN REPEATS

Mr. Fanny Blankers-Koen, of Holland, won the Women's 200 Metres to gain her third medal and repeat her Olympic performance in London in 1948.

There was little in the race until they came to the final bend but the wonderful Dutch athlete was always in the van.

Challenging her were the Russian, and the British entrant, Miss Hall, who seemed to be going the best of the challengers as they came down the straight.

The Soviet Champion, Sretchenova, the holder of the title, came with a terrific burst, came home, however, to take second place with Miss Hall again taking third place from another Russian girl, Malchina.

With a lap to go, the Czech, Roudny, came on the scene. The Yugoslav led at the bell from Roudny, Blomster, of Finland, and Stokken. Two hundred metres from home the Czech challenged with a terrific burst and won comfortably from the tired Segedin, Blomster, and Stokken.

JUNE FOULDS HOLDS OUT

There was a desperate relay to the Women's 400 Metres Relay. The British team on the outside were always attempting to draw even in the sixth game, then shook the Australian's composure with forcing tactics which carried him to winning a break-through and an 11-0 victory.

As they came to the last leg Britain was a couple of yards ahead of the Russians and Miss Foulds went off at a great speed and seemed to be catching the Russian Champion, Stechenova.

Then Mrs. Blankers-Koen came on the scene. Brilliant as she is, she did not seem to have a hope of passing back the leaders, but gradually as they neared the tape, she reached the tape together with the Russians and the three crack sprinters from Holland, Russia and Britain appeared to break the tape together.

A photograph showed that Mrs. Blankers-Koen's great effort had just failed with Britain the winner by inches.

Both teams returned 41.1 miles.

DESPERATE FINISH

The men's four by 100 metres relay produced another desperate finish with the Russian and French teams breaking the tape almost simultaneously. This was the last event of the Championships.

This final should have been run earlier but it will be recalled that there was a dispute over the first semi-final in which Britain's Soviet Union and Belgium were concerned.

In the final, the Soviet Union, the Olympic Champion, T. Ivanov, of Finland, could only finish fifth with 66.20 metres. Finland, however, gained the title with a winning throw of 71.26 metres by Hyttainen.

The Finn then took up the lead and at the second leg was followed by the Frenchman, Mabrouk.

As they came down the last lap, Nankeville sprang ahead to the front and held his lead for 200 metres. Then he went to the front again and made a desperate bid to leave the field. He was promptly challenged by the Frenchman and the Dutchman.

These three were well ahead of the field and it was certain that one of them would win. Nankeville was still in front 100 metres from home and again at the 50-metres mark. Here, however, he was clearly finished and his head went back.

Mabrouk got past the Finn Englishman and immediately the Dutchman came with a fine burst to win a splendid race in the final placings. In all the finals.

FINAL PLACINGS

MEDALS

Drake, Aug. 27. Britain, by winning eight European Athletics titles, gained more gold medals than any of the other 22 nations competing in the Championships here.

The Soviet Union were next best with six, but the Russians narrowly topped an unofficial points tally based on the first six placings in all the finals.

Working on a basis of six points for a first, five for a second down to one for a sixth placing, the Soviet team scored 12.2 points against 10.6 by Britain and 10.7 by France.

The figure after the name of each country in the list is of each country in the list in order of number of gold, silver and bronze medals.

THE RESULTS

The results on the final day of the Championships were as follows:

400 METRES HURDLES

1. A. Filiput (Italy) 51.9 secs. 2. J. Litouev (USSR) 52.4 secs. 3. H. Whittle (Britain) 52.7 secs.

WOMEN'S 200 METRES

1. Fanny Blankers-Koen (Holland) 24.2 secs. 2. E. Sretchenova (USSR) 24.9 secs.

3. D. Hall (Britain) 25.0 secs.

200 METRES

1. B. Shenton (Britain) 21.5 secs. 2. E. Bally (France) 21.8 secs. 3. Lammer (Holland) 22.1 secs.

POINTER

The final placings were (unofficial):

LEAGUE RESULTS

London, Aug. 20. The following were the results of rugger league matches played today:

Bailey 9 Whitehaven 3; Bradford Northern 4 Warrington 21; Bramley 10 Leeds 23; Castleford 10 Belle Vue Rangers 10; Hull 16; Lefish 13; Hull Kingston Rovers 18 Dewsbury 9; Hunslet 24 Barrow 7; Kelvyn 20 Hull 5; Liverpool Stanley 2 St Helen's 36; Oldham 43 York 2; Bradford 8 Huddersfield 23; Wakefield Trinity 30; Featherstone Rovers 20; Widnes 0; Rochdale Hornets 8; Workington Town 18 Swinton 10;

Other Match: Wigan 49 Italy 20.—Reuter.

SPORTING SAM

DAVIS CUP CHALLENGE ROUND

Tom Brown Saves America From A 5-0 Rout

Forest Hills, Aug. 27. Tom Brown won the final match of the 1950 Davis Cup challenge round, defeating Australia's Ken McGregor, 9-11, 8-10, 11-9, 6-1, 6-4.

Brown's comeback victory saved the United States from utter defeat in its losing attempt to defend the Davis Cup. Australia won the series by four matches to one, taking three singles and the doubles contest.

After Frank Sedgman routed Ted Schroeder in the day's first match and McGregor started brilliantly against Brown, it looked to 8,000 spectators as if the United States would take the worst beating in the 31-year history of the Davis Cup.

Yet he tried gamely to come back by rallying to break Brown's service in the sixth game of the final set. It was a valiant attempt, however, as Brown broke right back with smashing corner placements, held his own service after being down 30-40, then roared back through McGregor's service by storming 10 aces in the opening day, fired 10 aces in the opening set.

CAME ROARING BACK

But the 27-year old Brown, Wimbledon finalist in 1947, came roaring back to take the only United States victory.

McGregor, who has shown championship form in training, served in straight sets on the opening day, fired 10 aces in the opening set.

SEDMAN WINS AGAIN

Earlier in the day, Frank Sedgman scored a straight set victory over Ted Schroeder, 6-2, 6-2, 6-2, which gave the Aussies 10 placements in the set against one for Schroeder.

Sedgman, charging Schroeder with amazing sideline placements, broke Schroeder's service in the third and seventh games of the second set. He had 10 placements in this set against one for Schroeder.

The third set was the same story, Sedgman crashing through Schroeder's delivery in the first and seventh games to wind it up.

Illustrating the vast difference between the two, Sedgman had 30 placements in the match compared with but eight for Schroeder.—United Press.

WASHBROOK & WARR COMPLETE MCC TOURING PARTY

London, Aug. 27.

Cyril Washbrook, the Lancashire and England opening batsman, is off to tour Australia and New Zealand with the MCC cricket team this winter.

This was announced by the MCC. John Warr Cambridge University and Middlesex fast bowler, has been invited to complete the party. Denis Compton, of Middlesex, has been appointed vice-captain.

He is 23 and has taken 82 wickets to his credit for the summer. He has been elected captain of the University side for the next season.

The appointment of Compton as vice-captain of the touring team strengthens the view already held in many quarters that he is being groomed for the England captaincy. Should he make a success of his new duties, he may lead England against South Africa here next summer.

THE TEAM

The complete party chosen for the tour is:

F. R. Brown (Northamptonshire), captain;

H. T. Simpson (Notts),

T. E. Bailey (Essex),

J. G. Dewes (Middlesex),

A. V. Bedser (Surrey),

T. G. Evans (Kent),

W. E. Hollies (Warwickshire),

D. V. P. Wright (Kent),

W. G. A. Purhouse (Glamorgan),

L. Hutton (Yorkshire),

D. C. S. Compton (Middlesex),

D. B. Clegg (Yorkshire),

D. S. Sheppard (Cambridge University and Essex),

A. J. McIntyre (Surrey),

R. Berry (Lancashire),</p

• FOR YOUR SPARE MOMENTS •

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

First Trick Is Tricky In College Tourney

By OSWALD JACOBY

ONE of the most unusual bridge events of the year is the annual Intercollegiate Tournament. This year 151 colleges in 42 states competed in the early rounds of this tournament. Students from 10 colleges won their way to the Chicago finals.

More than 1,200 college students had a chance in the early rounds to show their skill with this hand. A very large number bid and played it correctly.

At most tables, the opening lead was the queen of diamonds. If South took this first trick he received a nice round zero.

The correct play is to allow West to hold the first trick with the queen of diamonds. Should we the diamond continuation

Q 9 8 4	10
V J 10 2
♦ 8 4
♦ A K 9 3
A K 5 3
♥ Q 9 3
♦ Q J 10 3
2	7 2
+ J 6	♦ K 7 5 4
	5 10 9 4
♦ A J 10 6
♦ A 9 6
♦ A 9
♦ Q 8 7 2
E-W vul.
East	South	West	North
Pass	1 ♠	1 ♦	1 ♣
Pass	2 ♠	Pass	4 ♠
Pass	Pass	Pass

No shift would do any good) and entered dummy with a club to take the trump finesse. West takes his king of spades and gets out safely by returning a spade or club.

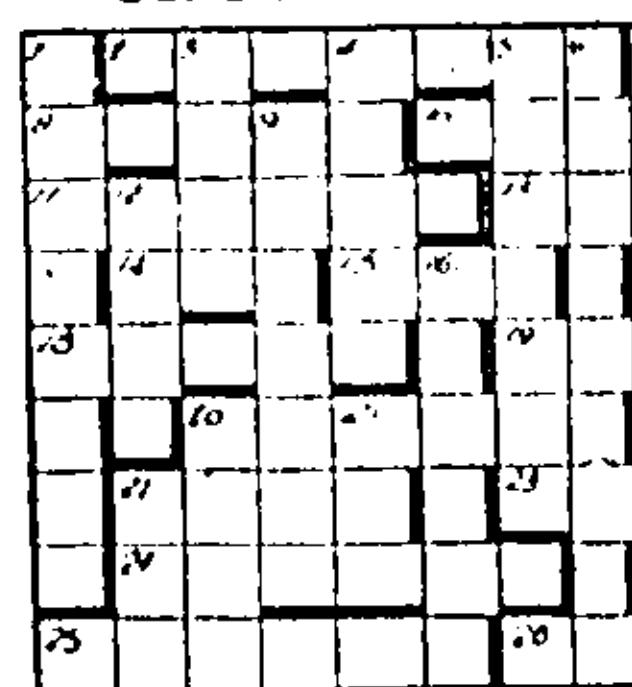

Having lost a diamond and a spade, South must make sure to lose only one heart trick. After drawing three rounds of trumps, declarer rams all of the clubs, cashing in dummy. He then leads the jack of hearts and lets it ride for a finesse.

West can win with the queen of hearts, but is then helpless. If he returns a heart, dummy will win a trick with the ten. If West returns his only remaining suit (diamonds), dummy can ruff while South discards his remaining low heart.

The reason South gets a zero for winning the first trick is that this allows the opponents to upset the applecart. For example, suppose South was the ace of diamonds at the first trick and goes to dummy with a club to take the trump finesse. West wins with the king of spades and puts his partner in with a diamond. East is then able to lead a heart. This costs declarer's finesse.

If South takes his ace of hearts, he must eventually give up two tricks in that suit. If he plays low, West wins with the queen of hearts and returning a spade or a club. Thereafter West waits patiently to take the setting trick with his long of hearts.

CROSSWORD

- Across
1. Within sight (17)
2. Entitled (5)
3. One member of the input (4)
4. It takes more than a tramp to (4)
5. Drift measure (3)
13. Quite obviously I am entirely taken by this girl (3)
15. Their peasants' favorite vegetable (3)
18. I'm always camp when the hope of one (3)
20. Back-room boy for the war (10)
22. The water dove and bubble (4)
23. They have a red one in York (4)
24. Apple, thank you (4)
25. Anything miraculous is contrary (4)
26. We may have a collection for this (4)
27. Down
1. This appears to imply it is (4)
2. Woman who got the job in the service (4)
3. From that a small department (4)
4. Not sufficient (3)
5. He does things without any reason (7)
6. I'm not up to (9)
7. So deep I remember this incident (7)
12. To turn this seems to be all right (4)
16. Tired (4)
17. Here we have an animal to search (4)
20. Does it do that to get a nut? (4)
21. Human, insect or material carrier (4)
22. My lady to the ball (4)
23. With this in you have part of Europe (4)

DUMB-BELLS

YOU'RE BIRTHDAY... By STELLA

MONDAY, AUGUST 28

If you are born today, the stars have given you the attributes of genius. If you do not reach fame and even fortune in your time, you will have only your life to blame.

Scientific in your approach to matters, you also have keen intuitive powers. Combine these talents with efficiency and hardwork and you are unbeatable! You are a good judge of human nature and seem able to work with all types of individuals. Interested in the occult, you might wish to do some serious work in this field at some time in your life.

Your capacity for detail is exceptional and you are never satisfied with surface details. You must get at the bottom and analyze everything carefully, digging out the exact truth. Don't make the error of mixing the forest because of the trees.

Artistic, musical and literary, you may select your life work from almost any field. However, bear not to scatter your interests too widely. Concentrate on one thing at a time, neglecting all other interests to the status of hobby or avocation.

To find what the stars have in store for tomorrow, select your birthday star and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 29

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 22)—Business affairs may need careful attention. Don't start on a journey this afternoon if you can avoid it.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)—You may not control affairs today, for much depends upon what others do and say. Be patient and cooperative.

SCORPIO (Oct. 21-Nov. 22)—Make the most of all employment opportunities. Take care of your health. Be cautious when afternoon comes.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)—A good day for all artistic and creative efforts. Children's affairs should be carefully attended to now.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)—Morning and evening hours are best. Postpone decisions on new ideas or contracts in the afternoon.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 14)—A good day for action. Take the leadership in your care of social life. You can get what you want now if you are smart.

BOYS' AND GIRLS' MAGAZINE

Willy Toad's New Business

—He Had a Hard Time Getting Started—

By MAX TRELL

WILLY Toad was nailing up a big sign on the trunk of the oak tree. The sign read: "Fresh Eggs."

"How?" said Cackle, suddenly looking at him in surprise. "Are you talking to me?"

Pointed to Sign

"Certainly I'm talking to you, Cackle! Do you see that sign? Willy pointed to the sign.

"Oh!" said Cackle. Then she walked up to it and looked at it sharply, first with one eye, then with the other. "It's a nice sign, Willy."

She didn't want Willy to know that she couldn't read what the sign said, so she added: "It's the best place for a sign, isn't it? On that big oak tree everybody can read it. I'm sure everybody will read it. It's a lovely sign."

However, Cackle just kept on pecking in the grass. She didn't say anything. She even began moving away.

"Please! Wait a minute!" cried Willy.

Willy hesitated. He wanted to ask Cackle if she would promise to supply him with the fresh eggs. But he didn't know just how to say it to her.

"Well," said Cackle, "I think I'll be going. I've got a peck of work to do. Thank you for showing me your beautiful sign, Willy."

"Cackle! Don't go away yet!" begged Willy.

"Why? There's no reason for me to stay here, is there?"

"Yes, there is! You—an you—read what the sign said, didn't you?"

"Read what that sign said? Yes—I mean—well, I sort of..."

"Here we have an animal to search for."

"Does it do that to get a nut?"

"Human, insect or material carrier?"

"With this in you have part of Europe. (3)"

• BY THE WAY •

by Beachcomber

THIS letter speaks for whether it is used for the drivers. It has since come to our notice that other claims are made for this product with reference to the polishing of teeth and of floors, the acquisition of mental poise, and the feeding of dogs, and the maintenance of lighthouses.

We feel bound to protest against this form of advertising, which can only debase the public!

Whither, Papaya?

THE American Industrial chemists who have discovered a drug that will produce a turkey small enough to go into a matchbox probably have one eye on the export trade to the dwarfs of Papua.

In some of the tribes it is considered a disgrace if you hang your head while walking under a cow. "Gaka Wal," they shout. "He is a tall fool."

Art and life

THE suggestion that their saws should be surrounded by masked beauties has made the Filthistan Trio very nervous. Last week, while performing in a big hotel, they noticed a pretty girl approaching. Kazabutah yelled: "No blon bomblies admitted to plonk!" Ashura reared: "Comprays is death to hart!" Rizamughan shouted: "No blon bomblies wanted, ho, ye!" The girl wanted their autographs, and the Persians were so relieved that Ashura said: "We give hortographs and hortobikes for charity."

And Ashura: "Plenty kites of blon bomblies help to keep home morale, ho, ye!" We place like your telephonie nomber. We give ya terminacion oppa with chomping," said Ashura. The girl laughed. "What would your wives say?" she asked. Kazabutah replied: "The Persian professor rayed, a wife out of sight, but the buzz of a fat him someone buzz's car."

Weapon and counter

DR. STRABISMUS (Whom God Preserves) of Utrecht has invented a pincat electric vacuum. A dozen of these attached to high-flying planes could suck up a reasonably large sea, and leave all ships stranded. Professor Wottemander's reply is still larger vacuums attached to ships. These would suck back the sea, and release the ships.

(London Express Service)

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 21)—Business affairs may need careful attention. Don't start on a journey this afternoon if you can avoid it.

ARIES (Mar. 22-Apr. 20)—If you can conquer outside complications, you may make considerable progress. Sides step all arguments.

Taurus (Apr. 21-May. 21)—Be prepared for any and all emergencies. Don't get caught off guard if you can help it this afternoon.

GEMINI (May 22-June 22)—A good day for all artistic and creative efforts. Children's affairs should be carefully attended to now.

CANCER (June 23-July 23)—This can be a good time for job improvement. But when afternoon arrives, be especially careful.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 14)—Take the leadership in your care of social life. You can get what you want now if you are smart.

(London Express Service)

POCKET CARTOON

London Express Service.

Flamingoes In The Pink

Hialeah Park's famed pink flamingo flock clusters around its young during the current nesting and hatching season in Miami, Florida. Co-operation is the byword as one group of birds stands guard over the young while others run interference between those on watch and strangers. (Acme).

FOR THE BUSINESSMAN

COMMONWEALTH PRODUCE FOR BRITAIN HONGKONG SHARES

Electric dominated the morning's business on the Stock Exchange at advanced prices. After transactions at $20 and $20.40, there were still buyers at $20.30.

The morning's turnover was $104,830. Transactions and noon prices were:

SHARES BUYERS SELLERS SALES

BANK OF AMERICA 101 5 1150

INDUSTRIAL & FINANCIAL 220 240 10 60

UNITED TRADING 1015 1015 10 60

TOUCHWOOD 66 66 10 60

BOOK PROVIDENT 1015 500 6 914

PROVIDENT 1015 500 6 914

WHEELOCK 10 100 4 10 50

HK HOTEL 100 100 4 7

HONG KONG LAND 1015 1000 4 20 30

UTILITIES 1015 100 4 10 50

TRIMETAL 1015 100 4 10 50

C. LIGHT (O) 90 90 125 25 57

C. LIGHT (N) 60 60 100 20 50

Electric 1015 100 4 10 50

TELEPHONES 1015 100 4 10 50

INDUSTRIAL & FINANCIAL 1015 100 4 10 50

CEMENT 1015 100 4 10 50

ROPS 1015 100 4 10 50

STOKES, ETC. 1015 100 4 10 50

Dairy 1015 100 4 10 50

Dairy Products 1015 100 4 10 50

Watson COTTONS 1015 100 4 10 50

Electric 1015 100 4 10 50

REVIEW OF COTTON FUTURES

London, Aug. 27.

